

HIPAA Privacy Notice

Attached is a Notice of Privacy Practices that Broadridge is required to distribute for its group health plans to all participants, under the privacy rules issued in accordance with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA). This law created a national standard requiring health plans and others in the health care industry to keep confidential individuals' medical records and other protected health information ("Protected Health Information" or "PHI"), and imposes administrative, contractual, and operational requirements on health plans, and those that administer health plans.

This notice describes how our group health plans protect your PHI and how PHI may be used or disclosed. PHI includes individually identifiable information that relates to your health, including information about treatment and payment for health care services. This notice also describes your rights with respect to PHI and how you can exercise those rights. Please be aware that if you are covered by an insured health or dental plan, you will receive a separate notice from the insurer or HMO. Personal information obtained through the administration of our disability, leave and workers' compensation programs is not specifically covered under this law.

The Broadridge Benefits Department wants to assure you that all personal information, including PHI, remains confidential, in accordance with applicable law, as well as the Broadridge privacy policies.

If you have any questions regarding this notice please contact the Broadridge Benefits Department in writing at the address listed on the last page of the notice.

BROADRIDGE FINANCIAL SOLUTIONS, INC. GROUP HEALTH PLANS NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

This Notice Describes How Medical Information About You May Be Used and Disclosed and How You Can Get Access To This Information. Please Review It Carefully.

"We" refers to the group health plans offered by Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. ("Broadridge"). "We" also refers to the third party administrators which Broadridge has engaged to provide health benefits to you. "You" or "yours" refers to the individuals who participate in these plans, including all the participant's dependents who receive health benefits from the plans. If you are covered by an insured health or dental plan, you will receive a separate notice from the insurer or HMO.

Use and Disclosure of Protected Health Information

We are required by federal law to protect the privacy of individually identifiable health information that we create or receive (referred to in this notice as "Protected Health Information"). Protected Health Information (which includes genetic information), is confidential health information that identifies you or could be used to identify you, and relates to a past, present or future physical or mental health condition, the provision of health care to you, or the payment of your health care expenses. We are also required to provide you with this notice regarding our policies and procedures regarding your Protected Health Information, and to abide by the terms of this notice, as it may be updated from time to time.

This notice only applies to health-related information received by or on behalf of the Broadridge group health plans. If Broadridge obtains your health information in another way – for example, if you are hurt in a work accident or if you provide medical records with your request for leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act – then this notice does not apply, but Broadridge will safeguard that information in accordance with other applicable laws and Broadridge policies. Similarly, health information obtained in connection with a non-group health plan benefit, such as long term disability or life insurance, is not protected under this notice. This notice also does not apply to information that does not identify you and with respect to which there is no reasonable basis to believe that the information can be used to identify you.

Your Protected Health Information will not be used or disclosed without a written authorization from you, except as described in this notice or as otherwise permitted by federal and state health information privacy laws. To the extent required under the HIPAA privacy rules, the PHI used and disclosed by the Broadridge group health plans will be limited to the minimum amount of PHI necessary for these purposes.

For treatment purposes, we may disclose your Protected Health Information to assist one or more of your health care providers to provide, coordinate or manage health care and its related services, such as disclosing your health information to a medical specialist to whom your primary care physician has referred you.

For payment purposes, we may use or disclose your Protected Health Information to determine responsibility for coverage and benefits, such as when we confer with other health plans to resolve a coordination of benefits issue. We also may use your Protected Health Information for other payment-related purposes, such as to assist in making plan eligibility and coverage determinations, for utilization review activities, and to help employees resolve covered expense and claim payment issues.

For health care operations purposes, we may use or disclose your Protected Health Information in a number of ways involving plan administration, including for quality assessment and improvement, vendor review, and underwriting activities. Your information could be used, for example, to assist in the evaluation of one or more vendors who support us, or we may contact you to provide reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services available under the Plan. However, we are prohibited from using or disclosing your genetic information for underwriting purposes.

In addition, the federal regulations permit us to use or disclose your Protected Health Information without your authorization under various conditions, including:

- as required by law, provided the use or disclosure complies with and is limited to the relevant requirements of such law,
- for public health activities,
- disclosures to an appropriate government authority regarding victims of abuse, neglect or domestic violence,
- to a health oversight agency for oversight activities authorized by law,
- to your family members, close friends, or other persons involved in your health care if you are present and you do not object to the disclosure (or if it can be inferred that you do not object), or, if you are not present or are unable to object due to incapacity or emergency, the disclosure is in your best interest. Following your death, the Broadridge group health plans may disclose your PHI to your family members, close friends, or other persons who were involved in your health care unless you doing so would be against your stated preferences. Disclosure will be limited to your PHI that is directly relevant to the person's involvement in your health care.
- the Broadridge group health plans may contact you to provide appointment reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be useful to you. The Broadridge group health plans may also use and disclose your PHI to communicate face-to-face with you to encourage you to purchase or use a product or service that is not part of the health benefits provided by the Broadridge group health plans, or to provide a promotional gift of nominal value to you.
- in connection with certain judicial and administrative proceedings,
- to a law enforcement official for law enforcement purposes,
- to a coroner or medical examiner,
- to cadaveric organ, eye or tissue donation programs,
- for research purposes, as long as certain privacy-related standards are satisfied,
- to avert a serious threat to health or safety,
- for specialized government functions (e.g., military and veterans activities, national security and intelligence, federal protective services, medical suitability determinations, correctional institutions and other law enforcement custodial situations),
- for workers' compensation or other similar programs established by law that provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness without regard to fault,
 - for disclosure to a Business Associate,
 - for us to discuss treatment alternatives with you,
 - for us to inform you about health-related benefits and services,
 - for us to share it with another individual involved in your care or payment of your care,
 - for marketing purposes, limited to face-to-face communications with you to encourage you to purchase or use a product or service that is not part of the health benefits provided by the Plans, or to provide a promotional gift of nominal value to you.

We may also disclose your Protected Health Information to the Broadridge Benefits Department without your authorization to administer the Broadridge group health plans. If you are covered under an insured health plan, the insurer may disclose Protected Health Information to Broadridge without your authorization in connection with payment, or health care operations. Broadridge will not disclose your Protected Health Information to any individuals at Broadridge not involved in administering the health plans. Broadridge is not permitted to use your Protected Health Information for any employment-related actions or decisions without your written authorization, or in connection with any other benefit plan maintained by Broadridge.

In addition, Broadridge may use or disclose "summary health information" for purposes of obtaining premium bids or modifying, amending, or terminating the group health plans. Summary health information is information that summarizes claims history, claims expenses, or types of claims experienced by individuals for whom Broadridge provides benefits under the Broadridge group health plans and from which the individual identifying information, except for five-digit zip codes, has been deleted. Broadridge also may use or disclose Broadridge group health plan eligibility and enrollment/disenrollment information – for example, for payroll processing.

Other uses and disclosures will be made only with your written authorization, and you may revoke your authorization in writing at any time by delivering a written revocation form to Broadridge Benefits Department. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose your Protected Health Information except as described above (or as permitted by any other authorizations that have not been revoked). However, we cannot retrieve any Protected Health Information disclosed to a third party in reliance on your prior authorization. If you are incapacitated, there is an emergency, or you otherwise do not have the opportunity to agree to or object to the disclosure of Protected Health Information, we will do what in our judgment is in your best interest regarding such disclosure and will disclose only the information that is directly relevant to the recipient's involvement with your health care.

State law may further limit the permissible ways we use or disclose your Protected Health Information. If an applicable state law imposes stricter restrictions, we will comply with that state law.

Your Rights Regarding Protected Health Information

You have the right to request in writing the following with respect to your Protected Health Information:

Right to Inspect and Copy. You may request access to certain medical records that contain your Protected Health Information in order to inspect and request copies of those records. If you request copies, we may charge you copying, mailing, and labor costs. To the extent that your Protected Health Information is maintained in an electronic health record, you may request that we provide a copy to you or to a person or entity designated by you in an electronic format. Under limited circumstances, we may deny you access to a portion of your records. If you desire access to your records containing Protected Health Information, you may obtain a request form from the Broadridge Benefits Department. You do not have the right to access your (i) psychotherapy notes, (ii) information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding, maintained in a Designated Record Set, or (iii) Certain Protected Health Information that is subject to the Clinical Laboratory Improvements Amendments of 1988 (“CLIA”), 42 C.F.R. § 263a, to the extent the provision of access to the individual would be prohibited by law.

You should submit your request on the required form to the Broadridge Benefits Department. In limited circumstances, we may deny your request to inspect and copy your Protected Health Information. Generally, if you are denied access to Protected Health Information, you may request a review of the denial.

Right to Amend. You have the right to request that we amend your Protected Health Information maintained in a designated record set for as long as the information is kept by or for us. We will comply with your request for amendment unless special circumstances apply. We may deny your request for amendment if you do not provide a reason to support your request or if we believe that the information is accurate. In addition, we may deny your request if you ask it to amend information that was created by another health plan or health care provider (but we will inform you of the source of the information, if known). If your physician or other health care provider created the information that you desire to amend, you should contact the health care provider to amend the information. To make a request for amendment of your Protected Health Information, you may obtain a request form from the Broadridge Benefits Department, and send it to the Broadridge Benefits Department.

Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. You have the right to request an “accounting of disclosures.” This is a list of disclosures of your Protected Health Information that we have made to others.

To request an accounting of disclosures you may obtain a request form from the Broadridge Benefits Department, and send it to the Broadridge Benefits Department. Your request must state a time period, which may not be longer than six years prior to the date the accounting was requested. The accounting will generally be provided free of charge, but if you request an accounting more than once during a twelve (12) month period, we may charge you a reasonable fee for any subsequent accounting statements. You will be notified of the costs involved, and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request before you incur any expenses. The accounting will not include all disclosures of your Protected Health Information. For example, the accounting will not include disclosures (i) to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations activities; (ii) made to you; (iii) made to friends or family members in your presence or because of an emergency; (iv) made pursuant to your written authorization; (v) for national security or intelligence purposes; or (vi) to correctional institutions or law enforcement officials. If you wish to request an accounting, you may obtain a request form from the Broadridge Benefits Department. Most Protected Health Information relating to your health benefits is used or disclosed by third party vendors (business associates) that administer the group health plans offered by Broadridge. For an accounting of disclosures by a group health plan vendor, you may wish to contact the vendor directly. For more information on your right to request an accounting, or for contact information for the group health plan vendors, contact the Broadridge Benefits Department.

Right to Request Restrictions. You have the right to request a restriction on the Protected Health Information we use or disclose about you for treatment, payment or health care operations. You also have the right to request a limit on the Protected Health Information we disclose about you to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for your care, like a family member or friend. For example, you could ask that a provider not use or disclose information about a service you receive if (i) the disclosure is being made for payment or health care operations reasons, and (ii) the restricted Protected Health Information pertains solely to a health care item or service provided where full payment was paid out-of-pocket in full (in other words, another plan has not paid for any part of the item or service) by you.

To request restrictions you must you may obtain a request form from the Broadridge Benefits Department, and send it to the Broadridge Benefits Department. You must advise us: (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limit(s) to apply.

Note: We are not required to agree to your request, except as provided above.

Right to Request Confidential Communications. You have the right to request that we communicate with you about Protected Health Information in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we send the results of your exam to a specified address, to work or to home.

To request confidential communications you may obtain a request form from the Broadridge Benefits Department, and send it to the Broadridge Benefits Department. We will make attempt to accommodate all reasonable requests. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted.

Right to Receive Paper Copy of this Notice. Upon request, you may obtain a paper copy of this Notice, even if you agreed to receive such notice electronically.

Personal Representatives. You may exercise your rights through a personal representative, as permitted under our health information privacy policy, and as determined under applicable state law. This individual must complete a Personal Representative Form. We reserve the right to deny access to your personal representative in certain circumstances.

If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you may complain to us in writing at the location described below under "Contacting Us" or file electronically by visiting <https://ocrportal.hhs.gov/ocr/smartscreen/main.jsf>. You will not be retaliated against for filing a complaint.

Premium Assistance Under Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP)

If you or your children are eligible for Medicaid or CHIP and you're eligible for health coverage from your employer, your state may have a premium assistance program that can help pay for coverage, using funds from their Medicaid or CHIP programs. If you or your children aren't eligible for Medicaid or CHIP, you won't be eligible for these premium assistance programs but you may be able to buy individual insurance coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace. For more information, visit www.healthcare.gov.

If you or your dependents are already enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP and you live in a State listed below, contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office to find out if premium assistance is available.

If you or your dependents are NOT currently enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP, and you think you or any of your dependents might be eligible for either of these programs, contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office or dial 1-877-KIDS NOW or www.insurekidsnow.gov to find out how to apply. If you qualify, ask your state if it has a program that might help you pay the premiums for an employer-sponsored plan.

If you or your dependents are eligible for premium assistance under Medicaid or CHIP, as well as eligible under your employer plan, your employer must allow you to enroll in your employer plan if you aren't already enrolled. This is called a "special enrollment" opportunity, and you must request coverage within 60 days of being determined eligible for premium assistance. If you have questions about enrolling in your employer plan, contact the Department of Labor at www.askebsa.dol.gov or call 1-866-444-EBSA (3272).

If you live in one of the following states, you may be eligible for assistance paying your employer health plan premiums. The following list of states is current as of July 31, 2025. Contact your State for more information on eligibility –

Health Insurance Marketplace Coverage Options and Your Health Coverage

Form Approved
OMB No. 1210-0149
(expires 12-31-2026)

PART A: General Information

Even if you are offered health coverage through your employment, you may have other coverage options through the Health Insurance Marketplace ("Marketplace"). To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the Health Insurance Marketplace and health coverage offered through your employment.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?

The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options in your geographic area.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?

You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium and other out-of-pocket costs, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that is not considered affordable for you and doesn't meet certain minimum value standards (discussed below). The savings that you're eligible for depends on your household income. You may also be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your costs.

Does Employment-Based Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?

Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that is considered affordable for you and meets certain minimum value standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit, or advance payment of the tax credit, for your Marketplace coverage and may wish to enroll in your employment-based health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit, and advance payments of the credit that lowers your monthly premium, or a reduction in certain cost-sharing, if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that is considered affordable for you or meet minimum value standards. If your share of the premium cost of all plans offered to you through your employment is more than 9.12%¹ of your annual household income, or if the coverage through your employment does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit, and advance payment of the credit, if you do not enroll in the employment-based health coverage. For family members of the employee, coverage is considered affordable if the employee's cost of premiums for the lowest-cost plan that would cover all family members does not exceed 9.12% of the employee's household income.^{1,2}

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered through your employment, then you may lose access to whatever the employer contributes to the employment-based coverage. Also, this employer contribution -as well as your employee contribution to employment-based coverage- is generally excluded from income for federal and state income tax purposes. Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis. In addition, note that if the health coverage offered through your employment does not meet the affordability or minimum value standards, but you accept that coverage anyway, you will not be eligible for a tax credit. You should consider all of these factors in determining whether to purchase a health plan through the Marketplace.

² An employer-sponsored or other employment-based health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs. For purposes of eligibility for the premium tax credit, to meet the "minimum value standard," the health plan must also provide substantial coverage of both inpatient hospital services and physician services.

When Can I Enroll in Health Insurance Coverage through the Marketplace?

You can enroll in a Marketplace health insurance plan during the annual Marketplace Open Enrollment Period. Open Enrollment varies by state but generally starts November 1 and continues through at least December 15.

Outside the annual Open Enrollment Period, you can sign up for health insurance if you qualify for a Special Enrollment Period. In general, you qualify for a Special Enrollment Period if you've had certain qualifying life events, such as getting married, having a baby, adopting a child, or losing eligibility for other health coverage. Depending on your Special Enrollment Period type, you may have 60 days before or 60 days following the qualifying life event to enroll in a Marketplace plan.

There is also a Marketplace Special Enrollment Period for individuals and their families who lose eligibility for Medicaid or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) coverage on or after March 31, 2023, through July 31, 2024. Since the onset of the nationwide COVID-19 public health emergency, state Medicaid and CHIP agencies generally have not terminated the enrollment of any Medicaid or CHIP beneficiary who was enrolled on or after March 18, 2020, through March 31, 2023. As state Medicaid and CHIP agencies resume regular eligibility and enrollment practices, many individuals may no longer be eligible for Medicaid or CHIP coverage starting as early as March 31, 2023. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services is offering a temporary Marketplace Special Enrollment period to allow these individuals to enroll in Marketplace coverage.

Marketplace-eligible individuals who live in states served by HealthCare.gov and either- submit a new application or update an existing application on HealthCare.gov between March 31, 2023 and July 31, 2024, and attest to a termination date of Medicaid or CHIP coverage within the same time period, are eligible for a 60-day Special Enrollment Period. That means that if you lose Medicaid or CHIP coverage between March 31, 2023, and July 31, 2024, you may be able to enroll in Marketplace coverage within 60 days of when you lost Medicaid or CHIP coverage. In addition, if you or your family members are enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP coverage, it is important to make sure that your contact information is up to date to make sure you get any information about changes to your eligibility. To learn more, visit HealthCare.gov or call the Marketplace Call Center at 1-800-318-2596. TTY users can call 1-855-889-4325.

What about Alternatives to Marketplace Health Insurance Coverage?

If you or your family are eligible for coverage in an employment-based health plan (such as an employer-sponsored health plan), you or your family may also be eligible for a Special Enrollment Period to enroll in that health plan in certain circumstances, including if you or your dependents were enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP coverage and lost that coverage. Generally, you have 60 days after the loss of Medicaid or CHIP coverage to enroll in an employment-based health plan, but if you and your family lost eligibility for Medicaid or CHIP coverage between March 31, 2023 and July 10, 2023, you can request this special enrollment in the employment-based health plan through September 8, 2023. Confirm the deadline with your employer or your employment-based health plan.

Alternatively, you can enroll in Medicaid or CHIP coverage at any time by filling out an application through the Marketplace or applying directly through your state Medicaid agency. Visit <https://www.healthcare.gov/medicaid-chip/getting-medicaid-chip/> for more details.

Important Notice from Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. About Your Prescription Drug Coverage and Medicare

You are receiving this notice because you (and/or your dependent) currently are, or will be, eligible for Medicare.

Please read this notice carefully and keep it where you can find it. This notice has information about your current prescription drug coverage with Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. (Broadridge) and about your options under Medicare's prescription drug coverage. This information can help you decide whether or not you want to join a Medicare drug plan. If you are considering joining, you should compare your current coverage, including which drugs are covered at what cost, with the coverage and costs of the plans offering Medicare prescription drug coverage in your area. Information about where you can get help to make decisions about your prescription drug coverage is at the end of this notice.

There are two important things you need to know about your current coverage and Medicare's prescription drug coverage:

1. Medicare prescription drug coverage became available in 2006 to everyone with Medicare. You can get this coverage if you join a Medicare Prescription Drug Plan or join a Medicare Advantage Plan (like an HMO or PPO) that offers prescription drug coverage. All Medicare drug plans provide at least a standard level of coverage set by Medicare. Some plans may also offer more coverage for a higher monthly premium.
 2. Broadridge has determined that the prescription drug coverage offered by the Broadridge medical & prescription plans is, on average for all plan participants, expected to pay out as much as standard Medicare prescription drug coverage pays and is therefore considered Creditable Coverage. Because your existing coverage is Creditable Coverage, you can keep this coverage and not pay a higher premium (a penalty) if you later decide to join a Medicare drug plan.

When Can You Join A Medicare Drug Plan?

You can join a Medicare drug plan when you first become eligible for Medicare and each year from October 15th through December 7th.

However, if you lose your current creditable prescription drug coverage, through no fault of your own, you will also be eligible for a two (2) month Special Enrollment Period (SEP) to join a Medicare drug plan.

What Happens to Your Current Coverage If You Decide to Join A Medicare Drug Plan?

As long as you keep the prescription drug coverage you have elected with Broadridge, you probably do not need to enroll in a Medicare prescription drug plan. Doing so will cost you extra money and may not provide you with any additional prescription drug benefits. For example, if you enroll in both a Medicare prescription drug plan and one of Broadridge's medical and prescription plans, your Broadridge plan is the primary plan and there is no reduction in premiums. But if your Broadridge prescription drug coverage ends (for example, if you drop that coverage because of a qualifying life event), you may want to consider enrolling in a Medicare prescription drug plan to avoid or minimize Medicare's late enrollment penalty. Please note that if you don't enroll in one of Broadridge's medical and prescription plans, you will not be able to re-enroll until the earlier of the next Broadridge open enrollment or the date you have a qualifying life event during the year.

When Will You Pay A Higher Premium (Penalty) To Join A Medicare Drug Plan?

You should also know that if you drop or lose your current coverage with Broadridge and don't join a Medicare drug plan within 63 continuous days after your current coverage ends, you may pay a higher premium (a penalty) to join a Medicare drug plan later.

If you go 63 continuous days or longer without creditable prescription drug coverage, your monthly premium may go up by at least 1% of the Medicare base beneficiary premium per month for every month that you did not have that coverage. For example, if you go nineteen months without creditable coverage, your premium may consistently be at least 19% higher than the Medicare base beneficiary premium. You may have to pay this higher premium (a penalty) as long as you have Medicare prescription drug coverage. In addition, you may have to wait until the following October to join.

Your Rights and Protections Against Surprise Medical Bills

When you get emergency care or get treated by an out-of-network provider at an in-network hospital or ambulatory surgical center, you are protected from surprise billing or balance billing.

What is “balance billing” (sometimes called “surprise billing”)?

When you see a doctor or other health care provider, you may owe certain out-of-pocket costs, such as a copayment, coinsurance, and/or a deductible. You may have other costs or have to pay the entire bill if you see a provider or visit a health care facility that isn’t in your health plan’s network.

“Out-of-network” describes providers and facilities that haven’t signed a contract with your health plan. Out-of-network providers may be permitted to bill you for the difference between what your plan agreed to pay and the full amount charged for a service. This is called “balance billing.” This amount is likely more than in-network costs for the same service and might not count toward your annual out-of-pocket limit.

“Surprise billing” is an unexpected balance bill. This can happen when you can’t control who is involved in your care—like when you have an emergency or when you schedule a visit at an in-network facility but are unexpectedly treated by an out-of-network provider.

You are protected from balance billing for:

Emergency services

If you have an emergency medical condition and get emergency services from an out-of-network provider or facility, the most the provider or facility may bill you is your plan’s in-network cost-sharing amount (such as copayments and coinsurance). You can’t be balance billed for these emergency services. This includes services you may get after you’re in stable condition, unless you give written consent and give up your protections not to be balance billed for these post-stabilization services.

Certain services at an in-network hospital or ambulatory surgical center

When you get services from an in-network hospital or ambulatory surgical center, certain providers there may be out-of-network. In these cases, the most those providers may bill you is your plan’s in-network cost-sharing amount. This applies to emergency medicine, anesthesia, pathology, radiology, laboratory, neonatology, assistant surgeon, hospitalist, or intensivist services. These providers can’t balance bill you and may not ask you to give up your protections not to be balance billed.

If you get other services at these in-network facilities, out-of-network providers can’t balance bill you, unless you give written consent and give up your protections.

You're never required to give up your protections from balance billing. You also aren't required to get care out-of-network. You can choose a provider or facility in your plan's network.

When balance billing isn't allowed, you also have the following protections:

- You are only responsible for paying your share of the cost (like the copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles that you would pay if the provider or facility was in-network). Your health plan will pay out-of-network providers and facilities directly.
- Your health plan generally must:
 - Cover emergency services without requiring you to get approval for services in advance (prior authorization).
 - Cover emergency services by out-of-network providers.
 - Base what you owe the provider or facility (cost-sharing) on what it would pay an in-network provider or facility and show that amount in your explanation of benefits.
 - Count any amount you pay for emergency services or out-of-network services toward your deductible and out-of-pocket limit.

If you believe you've been wrongly billed, you may contact the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services at 1-800-985-3059.

Visit Aetna for more information about your rights under federal law.

Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act

If you have had or are going to have a mastectomy, Federal law requires the Plan to inform you that you may be entitled to certain benefits. For individuals receiving certain services related to the mastectomy, coverage will be provided under the Plan in a manner determined in consultation with the attending physician and the patient, for:

- All stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed;
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance;
- Prostheses; and
- Treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema.

These benefits will be provided subject to the same deductibles and coinsurance applicable to other medical and surgical benefits provided under the Plan. If you would like more information on these benefits, contact Aetna, www.aetna.com +1 800 663 0911.
