Although Oregon and Washington border each other separated only by the Columbia River, these two wine producing regions are worlds apart. Washington produces rich, full-bodied Merlot and Cabernet, while Oregon is known for it's elegant Pinot Noir and Pinot Gris. The climate of Washington is a hot, semi-desert plateau, receiving 6 to 8 inches of rainfall per year. The cool, lush climate of Willamette Valley, Oregon averages 45 inches of rain. Both regions produce world-class wines, and we have selected a few that we feel represent the best of these two states.

We always have a selection from our Monthly Featured Wines open at our Daily Tasting Bar so you can Taste Before You Buy ®! Cheers!
