VISITA A CORIPPO:

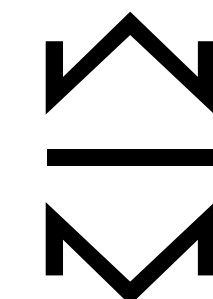

EXPERIENCE THE MYSTERY OF AN ABANDONED VILLAGE

The term albergo diffuso roughly translates to ‘scattered hotel’ – a hospitality concept that breathes life into disused buildings through tourism. With the last permanent residents long gone, the centuries-old settlement of Corippo has been lovingly renovated in this spirit. The Hotel Eden Roc is proud to support the project by offering exclusive excursions. Enjoy a tasty lunch on arrival before a fascinating tour of this beautiful, virtually abandoned village.
