Alan Zabriskie is Director of Choral Studies and Associate Professor of Music at Texas Tech University where he serves as conductor of the University Choir and mentors doctoral and masters students in choral conducting and teaches undergraduate choral conducting. He also serves as Artistic Director of the Lubbock Chorale and Director of Music Ministries at St. John's United Methodist Church in Lubbock. Prior to arriving at Texas Tech University, he served as Director of Choral Activities at the University of Central Missouri for seven years and taught middle school and high school choral music in the Clark County School District in Las Vegas, Nevada. Alan holds degrees from Florida State University, Brigham Young University, and the University of Utah.

Under Alan's direction, notable choral performances include a National Convention of the American Choral Directors Association, the Texas Music Educators Association Convention, the Missouri Music Educators Association In-service Workshop/Conference, and various concerts at Carnegie Hall in New York City. He has conducted performance tours and honor choirs and served as clinician in choral festivals and conferences throughout the United States, Europe, Africa, and Asia, including his most recent tour with the University Choir to the countries of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania.
