

TIMING is EVERYTHING

Marketing a Vehicle Donation
Program During the Holiday Season

INTRODUCTION

The holiday giving season is crucial to the success of any organization's fundraising efforts.

This comes as no surprise, but did you know the same holds true for your vehicle donation program? The holiday season represents a tremendous opportunity, but you need guidance to act on it. That's where we come in. This report contains information that can help you plan and implement a successful marketing campaign for your vehicle donation program during the holiday season.

What makes us experts? As one of the world's leading automotive auction companies, Insurance Auto Auctions, Inc. (IAA) helps nonprofit organizations convert their donated vehicles into the funding they need to carry out their important missions, and we've been doing it since 1982. In addition, our One Car One Difference® national awareness campaign promotes the philanthropic benefits of vehicle donation to the general public and drives donations nationwide.

Most significantly, we have access to decades' worth of data that can help any nonprofit establish an effective vehicle donation program or optimize the one it already has.

Let's get started.

THE TECHNICAL STUFF

Terminology & Dates

Aside from helping nonprofits across North America generate millions of fundraising dollars every year, we also create a tremendous amount of proprietary data, and we put it to good use. That data fueled this report.

Everyone's definition of the holiday season is different. But to pull comparable year-over-year data, we had to work with standardized dates. For the sake of this report, the holiday season is defined as the period of time from Thanksgiving through the last day of the year.

For 2019, these dates are:

- Holiday season: November 28–December 31
- First week of the holiday season: November 28–December 5
- Giving Tuesday: December 3
- Last week of the holiday season: December 24–31

Benchmarks

All holiday season donation volume figures in this report appear in relation to the average of the dataset for all days of the year.

THE VOLUME

Before we get going, let's take a look at a few numbers to put things in perspective.

NOV DEC

28 29 30 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31

The holiday season is usually over before we know it, but this year, it's 6 days shorter! Blink and you'll miss it.

11.1%

Nearly 11.1% of all annual vehicle donations are made over the holiday season. The holiday season is key to the success of your vehicle donation program.

The TiMELiNE

They say timing is everything. But what good is that advice without a schedule? Don't worry, we have your back. To help make the most of what little time you have during the holiday season, we identified the dates most important to a successful vehicle donation campaign.

GIVING TUESDAY

▲ 45.7%

If you don't show your vehicle donation program some love on Giving Tuesday, you leave money on the table. On average, daily vehicle donation volume increases by 45.7% on the Tuesday after Thanksgiving.

It doesn't have to be the star of the show, but make sure your vehicle donation program receives its fair share of attention on Giving Tuesday.

DECEMBER

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8

the CRESCENDO

▲10.4%

Thinking about easing up during the home stretch? Think again. Average daily vehicle donation volume increases by a staggering 10.4% over the last seven days of the season.

Don't pull the plug too soon. One last push—even a simple email blast—could pay big dividends.

THE CHANNELS

Ready for an early present? We crunched some numbers to pinpoint which channels generate the most donations during the holiday season. As it turns out, the top three—online, traditional and word of mouth media—remain the same throughout the entire year. Isn't it great when things work out?

There's no need to reinvent the wheel during the holiday season. Your existing channels are already capable of generating vehicle donations. You just have to apply the right messaging at the right time.

TYING IT ALL TOGETHER

We took an in-depth look at timing, channels and markets, and examined how to get the most out of each. What should you take away? Three things:

- 1 Time your holiday vehicle donation marketing efforts to take advantage of the key dates we identified.
- 2 Leverage the marketing channels most likely to generate vehicle donations.
- 3 Take your message to the most receptive markets using our list of the top 10 MSAs.

As with most marketing efforts, the organizations that use data to establish an early lead will likely come out on top. The information provided could give you that edge. So save this report, print it, tape it to your office wall if you need to. Just make sure you use it to get more from your vehicle donation program this holiday season, so you don't get left out in the cold.
