

Craig Avery, CCU Trustee
Retired Business Leader/Engineer

Craig's mission is to make a permanent and life changing impact in the world in which we live.

Craig served 35 years in the consulting engineering business. He served as president of the firm and led its acquisition by a publicly traded engineering firm. Since retiring, he has led the acquisition, design and construction of Southland Christian Church's new Richmond Road Campus. He leads mission teams teaching business and funding loans for entrepreneurs in Africa, Europe, South America, Southeast Asia and other parts of the world. He leads 210Leaders, a group of 200 business leaders in Central Kentucky, exploring the intersection of faith and business. His hobbies are cycling, woodworking and golf. He is married to Dori and they enjoy three children with five grandkids.

Craig passionately believes that US business people, fully engaged in Kingdom work, can change the world.
