LONELY PLANET PHOTOGRAPHER TO ESCORT HURTIGRUTEN MIDNIGHT SUN TOUR – DEPARTS MAY 2018

MAY 2017 - 50 Degrees North has teamed up with Lonely Planet Photographer, David Evans for this world first exclusively escorted photography tour of Norway's Lofoten Archipelago & North Cape under the Midnight Sun. Experience shrimp tasting during a sunset tall ship cruise on the fjords of Oslo, Arctic Superior Cabins on a port to port Hurtigruten voyage, an extended stay in Lofoten and the North Cape of Norway. Photography tuition and support will be provided for by David Evans, Lonely Planet photographer, writer and award-winning travel, landscape and commercial photographer as well as two local photographers joining the group on location in Lofoten and Tromsø.

The High Arctic's 24-hour midnight sun is the hero of this tour, creating endless chances to capture the magnificent colours of the Norwegian Coast. Our activities and excursions are tailored towards seeing and capturing the best light and most photogenic locations. Tuition is mostly hands on, with much of our time spent outdoors with our cameras.

A 50 Degrees North Scandinavian escort will also accompany this group - min group size is 8, maximum is 12 people. This premium 12-day tour is priced at USD 9758 per person, twin share. Departures: 26 May 2018
