SECTION 2 – ACADEMIC DETAILS

Subject Rationale

In this subject, students will study the historical foundations that underlie the contemporary development of mindfulness as a method for achieving well-being. Through the study and practice of mindfulness students will explore and develop diverse skills and techniques including: 1) Refining mindfulness skills; 2) Cultivating self-reflection and compassion; 3) Evaluating ethical principles of working with clients. Students will come to recognise the importance of understanding the full potential of mindfulness practices, and its application, in both self-care practices and the care of others.

Learning Outcomes

1. Describe the contemporary development of mindfulness from its historical and cultural origins.
2. Evaluate the evidence of mindfulness practices and their use within health care settings.
3. Demonstrate ability to perform a variety of mindfulness practices.
4. Demonstrate ability to educate and communicate mindfulness practices within the healthcare setting.
5. Develop an understanding of reflective practices in mindfulness.
