Subject overview

This subject deepens students' grasp of evidence-based herbal medicine practice, incorporating life stage considerations and complex multi-system conditions for comprehensive client care. Using real-life cases, students blend traditional and modern knowledge to create holistic, personalised treatment plans, refining their understanding of herbal medicine delivery intricacies including herbal energetics, synergy, and optimised dosing. Students will also hone their skills in the justification of treatment decisions based on naturopathic principles, supported by both traditional and scientific rationalisation.

Assessments

- Week 6: Written Assignment
- Week 11: Recorded Presentation
