1. Qualification

The 2024 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships, hosted on MyWhoosh, will introduce a new qualification system¹ designed to bring together the top 20 Cycling Esports athletes for the on-site final in Abu Dhabi on 26 October². As part of this qualification route, National Federations that have participated in previous editions of the UCI Cycling Esports World Championships will receive automatic quotas of riders for the semi-final, which will take place on 6 September.

UCI Point of Contact

The UCI is responsible for the National Federation quota and for providing feedback to National Federations. All correspondence in this regard should be sent to esports@uci.ch.

Raising Clarification Questions

National Federations are invited to submit any questions they may have regarding the 2024 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships to the UCI by close of business (CEST) on 15 May 2024. All questions and answers will be anonymised and consolidated into one document and distributed to all National Federations.

Virtual Kit Design Submission

All National Federations must submit their virtual kit design for review and approval by the UCI and final artwork for inclusion on the MyWhoosh platform by 30 June 2024. Nations without a design are encouraged to contact MyWhoosh (federations@mywhoosh.com).

Confirming Allocated Quotas (semi-final)

National Federations are kindly requested to confirm their semi-final quotas to the UCI by no later than 6pm CEST on 30 June 2024. Please send an email to esports@uci.ch with MyWhoosh in copy (federations@mywhoosh.com). The email should include:

- A written indication of how many of the allocated quotas per gender the National Federation will accept.
- Attach or send via secure file transfer the National Federation logo in vector/.ai format, any brand guidelines, and their jersey/shorts designs.

2024	Key Milestones
6 May	•Technical Guide (version 1) shared with National Federations.
15 May	•Deadline for National Federations to submit any clarification questions to the UCI. •Deadline for National Federations to confirm kit design.
31 May	•UCI to distribute answers to questions from all National Federations
30 June	•Deadline for National Federations to indicate participation and how many allocated quotas they wish to fulfil. •Deadline for National Federations to submit final jersey artwork designs.

The quotas for the semi-final will be calculated using a points system based on the points accumulated by riders from each nation during the 2022 and 2023 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships. The methodology will be as follows:

- The top 60 finishers in both genders in the 2022 and 2023 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships received points based on their finishing positions. These points are awarded using the respective genders UCI Road World Championships point tables defined in articles 2.10.008 and 2.1.017 of the UCI Regulations.

- Each nation's points will be determined by aggregating the points of all its riders in the two events. Nations whose riders took part in the events but either did not finish or finished outside the top 60 will still be recognised and allocated quotas.
- Six groups were established based on the available spots for the 2024 edition, with each National Federation within a grouping receiving an equal number of rider allocations.
 - Group A: The top 4 point-scoring National Federations from the 2022 and 2023 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships.
 - 10 rider quotas are allocated per National Federation.
 - Group B: The 5th to 8th highest point-scoring National Federation.
 - 7 rider quotas are allocated per National Federation.
 - Group C: The 9th to 12th highest point-scoring National Federation.
 - 5 rider quotas are allocated per National Federation.
 - Group D: The 13th to 16th highest point-scoring National Federations.
 - 4 rider quotas are allocated per National Federation.
 - Group E: The remaining point-scoring National Federation.
 - 3 rider quotas are allocated per National Federation.
 - Group F: Zero point-scoring National Federations.
 - 2 rider quotas allocated per National Federation.

As a result of the process outlined above, the following National Federations will be allocated quota of men's and women's riders for the semi-finals as shown on the following page.

* The defending UCI Cycling Esports World Champions will automatically receive a normative quota. Bjørn Anreassen (DEN) Loes Adegeest (NED).

National Federations without allocations

As in previous years, it is expected that several additional National Federations that have not participated in previous editions, will request quotas for the event. In 2024, we will provide a pathway to the Cycling Esports World Championships for all National Federations:

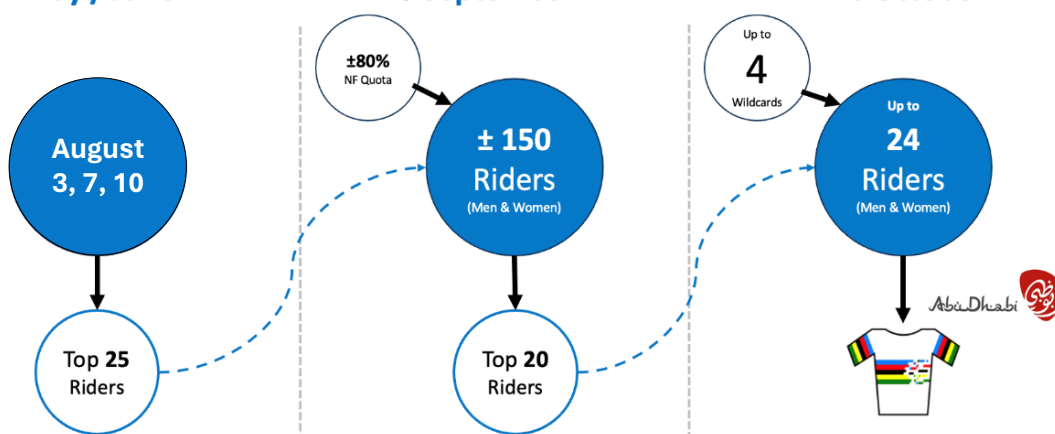

- Any National Federation will be able to propose up to 3 riders that will be automatically invited to the Public Qualification Pathway (please contact MyWhoosh for details).
- These riders must have a MyWhoosh level of 10.

Public Qualification May / June

Semi-final 6 September

Final 26 October

Additional Notes

If the UCI does not receive confirmation by the above deadline, the National Federations' quotas will be redistributed.

Once National Federations have accepted their quotas, the UCI reserves the right to:

Allocate additional quotas to any of the National Federations listed in this document.

Invite additional National Federations to participate with allocated rider quotas.

By accepting the invitation to participate in the 2024 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships, National Federations also agree to include in their team any eligible riders from their country who have qualified by the Public Qualification Pathway. In all cases, the UCI will liaise with the National Federation in advance.

The UCI is available to provide further clarification regarding National Federation quotas. Please do not hesitate to contact esports@uci.ch should you require additional information.

Public Qualification Format

The open qualifiers allow riders not selected by their National Federations to qualify for the 2024 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships.

Riders can choose between 3 open qualifiers in the schedule provided. The top riders from each qualifier and gender category will be offered a place in the 2024 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships Semi-Finals. The number of slots for each race will be announced before the first race.

The 2024 UCI Cycling Esports World Championships will be held online on the 6th of September, 2024.
