1. INTRODUCTION

ABOUT THE UCI SOLIDARITY PROGRAMME

The global and unified development of cycling is at the core of the UCI’s strategy, achieved by supporting emerging cycling nations and promoting the sport to increase its popularity worldwide.

Back in 2018, UCI Solidarity Programme was set up to reach these goals by supporting its Continental Confederations and National Federations in the development of cycling in their respective regions and countries, within a structured, sustainable and progressive framework.

The National Federations are classified according to their needs: categories 1 and 2 are the most economically well-off, while categories 3 and 4 are Federations with emerging cycling activities and in greatest need of support. Out of the 202 members, 73% are classified as category 3 or 4 and these are the National Federations to which the UCI Solidarity Programme provides support.

In line with Agenda 2030, the UCI Solidarity Programme provides aid to these less-developed National Federations worldwide thanks to, among others, the funding of training courses and donation of equipment. The UCI World Cycling Centre (WCC) represents a central tool in the UCI’s solidarity strategy.

ABOUT THE UNION CYCLISTE INTERNATIONALE (UCI)

Founded in 1900 in Paris (France), the Union Cycliste Internationale (UCI) is the worldwide governing body for cycling. It develops and oversees cycling in all its forms, for all people: as a competitive sport, a healthy recreational activity, a means of transport, and also just for fun.

The UCI manages and promotes the ten cycling disciplines: road, track, mountain bike, BMX Racing, BMX Freestyle, cyclo-cross, trials, indoor cycling, cycling esports and gravel. Five of these are featured on the Olympic Games programme (road, track, mountain bike, BMX Racing and BMX Freestyle), two in the Paralympic Games (road and track) and four in the Youth Olympic Games (road, mountain bike, BMX Racing and BMX Freestyle).
2. FOUR PATHWAYS TO SUPPORT CONTINENTAL CONFEDERATIONS AND NATIONAL FEDERATIONS

The four key areas of the UCI Solidarity Programme – Education, Equipment, Funding for Special Projects and Athlete Development - function autonomously but also complement one another. These four pathways cover the key objectives to enable the development of cycling within the Continental Confederations and National Federations. These entities can benefit from the sporting, technical and financial resources available, which, in turn, will provide support to their riders and other stakeholders, as well as increase their autonomy and independence as a structure.
2.1 EDUCATION

The Education Pathway is divided into three areas:

A. Coaching courses
B. Mechanics course
C. Commissaire courses

Continental Confederations and National Federations can apply for up to one project a year in one of above-mentioned areas.

For free educational tools and courses related to the UCI’s Cycling Integrity Policy, please consult the Annex A of this guide.

2.3 FUNDING FOR SPECIAL PROJECTS

For the Continental Confederations, funding will be granted upon evaluation of the project submitted. It should include minimum two of the areas mentioned above, under the Education and Equipment pathways.

For the National Federations, funding will be granted upon evaluation of the project submitted and should cover one of the following themes: Women’s Cycling, Cycling for All or Para-cycling. If successful, the project could benefit from a UCI Solidarity Programme contribution of up to EUR 6,000.

Women’s Cycling

For projects pertaining to development of Women’s Cycling, the project submitted should be elaborated on the basis of the UCI Women in Cycling Best Practice Guide published on the UCI website.

Cycling for All

For projects concerning Cycling for All, and more specifically related to youth, the submitted project should be elaborated on the basis of the UCI Children’s Cycling Education Programmes Toolkit if the wish is to develop a strategy enabling children to learn to ride safely.

The Cycling For All Side Events UCI Toolkit For Event Organisers should be used as a basis for the elaboration of the project submitted to promote cycling in all forms by engaging spectators, families and the general public as active participants in a Cycling for All activity linked to an event such as a National Cycling Championship.

We encourage National Federations who are planning Cycling for All projects to contact the UCI Cycling for All team (cyclingforall@uci.ch) to obtain further guidance and support in the delivery of their projects, which could also be used as best practice examples for other Federations on UCI platforms.

Sustainability

Further to the launch of the UCI’s sustainability strategy in 2021, and its key objectives to reduce the carbon footprint of the sport of cycling whilst promoting the bicycle as a key solution to combat climate change, the UCI will provide support to National Federations developing their own sustainability action plans. The UCI Sustainability Guidelines should serve as preliminary reading before the development of specific strategies, whilst the UCI’s new climate action training programme will provide additional support to all National Federations looking to implement sustainability measures within their organisation. We encourage Federations to contact the UCI (cyclingforall@uci.ch) before developing such projects.

Para-cycling

For projects linked to para-cycling, National Federations should contact the UCI (internationalrelations@uci.ch) for guidance and expertise on the elaboration of their project.

In order for the project to be put forward for approval before the UCI Management Committee, proof of the partnership will be requested.

Evaluation

In order to benefit from the UCI Solidarity Programme, the National Federation must provide a full evaluation report to the UCI for the year prior to year of application if they benefitted from the programme.

Please contact the Solidarity Unit of the International Relations Services, solidarity@uci.ch, for any further information on this matter.

ANNEX A

CYCLING INTEGRITY

As the world governing body for cycling, the UCI is committed to encouraging, promoting, strengthening, and safeguarding the integrity of our sport, stakeholders and competitions.

The objectives of the UCI Cycling Integrity programme hinge on three pillars: clean cycling, safe cycling and fair cycling, each of which comprise a preventive or risk-limiting component as well as a responsive component for reporting and dealing with problems that arise.

The UCI strongly encourages the National Federations to lead by example on those three pillars.

ANTIDOPING

As a signatory of the World Anti-Doping Code, the UCI takes its responsibility under the Code with the utmost seriousness and believes that it leads the way in the protection of clean athletes.

One of the key responsibilities of the UCI is to ensure an effective and efficient Anti-Doping Program to stay at the forefront of the fight against doping.

 Needless to say, education is a key element to the effective fight against doping in cycling as it helps its stakeholders understanding the challenges and risks associated to doping, preventing any potential unfortunate situations and thus keeping cycling clean.

In view of this, it is crucial to understand that each member of the cycling community has a role to play, and that National Federations are one of the most important pieces of this puzzle.

Education

The UCI strongly encourages the National Federations to implement education and prevention programs for doping-free sport. Such Programs will undoubtedly have a positive and long-term influence on the choices made by all your members, in particular by the athletes and their entourage.

To support the National Federations in their efforts for clean sport, several tools are available under the UCI website’s Anti-Doping Section. Under this section, the National Federations will find general information and education materials enabling your members to gain/improve their knowledge on Anti-Doping.

Furthermore, the UCI also strongly recommend you to refer your members to the WADA’s online Anti-doping Education and Learning platform (ADEL) launched by the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA), a platform enables anyone to assimilate the basic notions of anti-doping and to improve or strengthen their anti-doping capabilities. Modern, easy to navigate and available in several languages, the platform’s mission is to meet the Anti-Doping educational needs for all athletes, coaches, medical personnel and, more in general, all stakeholders.

SAFEGUARDING / PREVENTION OF HARASSMENT AND ABUSE

It is essential that each member of the cycling family feel respected as they ride, work and develop within our sport. The UCI is committed to keeping cycling safe for all, and providing a respectful, equitable environment, free from all forms of harassment and abuse.
Safeguarding procedures

The UCI strongly encourages the National Federations to take measures to both prevent and respond to concerns arising, by:

- taking proactive action to protect people from harm or abuse through appropriate prevention and response measures and promoting their wellbeing. It means doing everything possible to identify and address risks and to prevent any kind of harm or abuse, such as physical, sexual and/or emotional abuse.
- having appropriate systems in place to adequately address and respond to concerns or encourage your stakeholders to directly report their concerns to the UCI via UCI Reporting platform.

Education

To increase your knowledge about this topic and better understand what safeguarding athletes entails, we invite you to take the IOC e-learning course on safeguarding athletes from harassment and abuse.

Crucial to creating a safe sporting environment are recognising the signs of harassment and abuse and knowing when and how to act. This course will provide you with the education and tools to effectively safeguard athletes and take responsibility when it comes to offering support and protection. A key take away will be building your awareness of when harassment and abuse could be occurring around you and how to step in.

PREVENTION OF COMPETITION MANIPULATION

To maintain its credibility and integrity, cycling must be free of betting and competition manipulation. To effectively protect cycling from such occurrences, all individuals bound by the UCI Regulations and UCI Code of Ethics must respect the following guidelines.

Education

You can learn more on this topic by taking the IOC e-learning course on prevention of competition manipulation. In this course, you will learn more about competition manipulation, the risks involved in sports betting, and how to handle different situations in order to protect yourself and your sport.

The course is spread across the following sections and concludes with a final quiz:

- What is competition manipulation?
- The risks of sports betting
- Who can manipulate a competition and how?
- Small mistakes, big consequences

Reporting concerns

All persons bound by the UCI Code of Ethics have the obligation to report any action that may reasonably be considered a manipulation of cycling events, corrupt conduct or use of inside information (Appendix 2, Article 3, UCI Code of Ethics).

You can report your concern by using the UCI Reporting Platform, a confidential, dedicated and highly secure online system enabling individuals to report any concerns regarding safeguarding (harassment and/or abuse) or manipulation of competitions.

We encourage National Federations to promote this tool and add a link on their website.
