How does Nomo Rental Property Finance work?

What is Rental Property Finance?

- This type of property finance is for people looking to buy a property to rent out to long-term tenants as an investment, rather than to live in it.
- Nomo Property Finance allows you to receive a finance amount from Nomo that contributes towards the purchase of your property.
- You will pay regular, monthly payments to Nomo over a time period chosen by you.

What type of bank profit rates does Nomo have?

- Our products allow you to fix the bank profit rate for either 2 or 5 years, so that the chosen rate will be constant for the repayment period selected.
- At the end of the fixed-rate period, you can either choose a new fixed-rate period, or you will automatically go onto a follow-on rate which could vary over time.

What are monthly payments?

- Nomo Rental Property Finance available on an amortising or profit only basis.
- Profit only product: this finance amount will need to be paid off in full at the end of the repayment period.
- Amortising products: once you make all your payments, you will have paid off the whole finance amount at the end of the term.

What type of Islamic Banking does Nomo use?

- Nomo adheres to the principles of Islamic banking and uses Commodity Murabaha to facilitate rental property finance.
- Commodity Murabaha involves Nomo facilitating a sale of metal commodities to you for the amount equal to the finance amount and bank profit-rate. This amount will be repaid on a deferred basis over the chosen repayment period. You will take ownership of the metal commodity and consequently sell to a third-party. Nomo will take care of this on your behalf.

What tax considerations are there?

- When you buy a property in the UK, you may be required to pay taxes such as Stamp Duty Land Tax applicable to properties in England and Land Transaction Tax for properties in Wales.
- You may be also liable for Income Tax resulting from the income earned from your rental property and Capital Gains Tax in case you choose to sell the property in the future, please refer to the UK government website for more information.
- There may be other taxes due or resulting from the purchase of your rental property and you should review your personal tax situation and the implications of owning the property with a tax specialist.

Glossary

BANK PROFIT RATE

This is the percentage of the finance amount that you will pay to Nomo as our profit on the commodity Murabaha trade.

FINANCE -TO-VALUE

Finance-to-value, or FTV, is the percentage ratio of the finance amount against the value of the property. The maximum FTV is 75%. For example, if you ask Nomo for a finance amount of 375,000 GBP to purchase a property for 500,000 GBP, the FTV will be 75% ($375,000 / 500,000 \times 100 = 75\%$). This means you will need to provide a down-payment of at least 25% of the property value. In conventional mortgage terms, this may be referred to as loan-to-value or LTV.

FIXED PERIOD PROFIT RATE

Fixed period profit rate is when your bank profit-rate will be constant for the repayment period chosen.

FOLLOW -ON RATE

The follow-on rate is the rate that your finance will switch to once your initial fixed-rate period ends. This could vary from the rate indicated at the time you take out your Nomo property finance and when you switch to the follow-on rate after your fixed period ends. This will also vary over the repayment period of the finance amount and is set internally, with a renewal of the Murabaha trade on a monthly basis.

MINIMUM AND MAXIMUM FINANCE AMOUNT

Minimum or maximum finance amount is the range of finance that can be received from Nomo to contribute towards the purchase of your property.

EARLY PAYMENT

Early payment is when you choose to pay sooner than the repayment period. You decide to repay your property finance amount and bank profit in full earlier than the repayment period.

OVERPAYMENT

Overpayments are payments in addition to your monthly payment or partial early payment of the finance amount. Overpayments are not permitted.

DOWN PAYMENT

This is the amount you need to pay upfront towards the purchase price of the property.
