Kissimmee, Florida

Client:
City of Kissimmee

Total Cost:
$345,313

Nature of Work:

Borrelli + Partners was selected for the planning and landscape design of the Shingle Creek Regional Trail, a trail recently included on the America's Great Outdoors project list by President Obama. The park was also designated a National Wildlife Refuge in January 2012.

The Shingle Creek Regional Trail is a multi-use recreational trail that is currently being developed through cooperation between the local governments of the City of Kissimmee, Osceola County, City of Orlando, and Orange County.

Once fully constructed, it will reach 32 miles through Central Florida's most traveled urbanized areas. This trail will join a network of trails that extend from Kissimmee to Wekiva Springs, and from Orlando to Mascotte. It will serve as a key north-south connector in a larger network of trails that include the West Orange Trail, South Lake Trail, Cross Seminole Trail, and Seminole Wekiva Trail.

Borrelli + Partners was responsible for the trail's signage and trail amenities. The signage includes: primary identity, directional, informational/interpretive and mile markers. The trail amenities include: benches, trash receptacles, bicycle racks, pet stations and water fountains.
