ENTER YOUR NAME OR TEAM NAME HERE

for connectivity, action and creativity as demonstrated during the

Students Rebuild One Million Bones Challenge

In June 2013, your hand-made bones formed a visual petition against humanitarian crises on the National Mall in Washington D.C. and raised awareness across the globe. Thanks to your participation, young people in Somalia and the Democratic Republic of Congo gained vocational educational opportunities through CARE. The connection you have made with your peers and those across the globe, and the collective action you have taken, has made a lasting change.

THANK YOU!

Take Action. See Change.
