

Smarter training for technical teams

Lumify Work (formerly DDLs), make it easy for leaders to upskill teams and build real-world capability at scale with an affordable, AI-driven training platform.

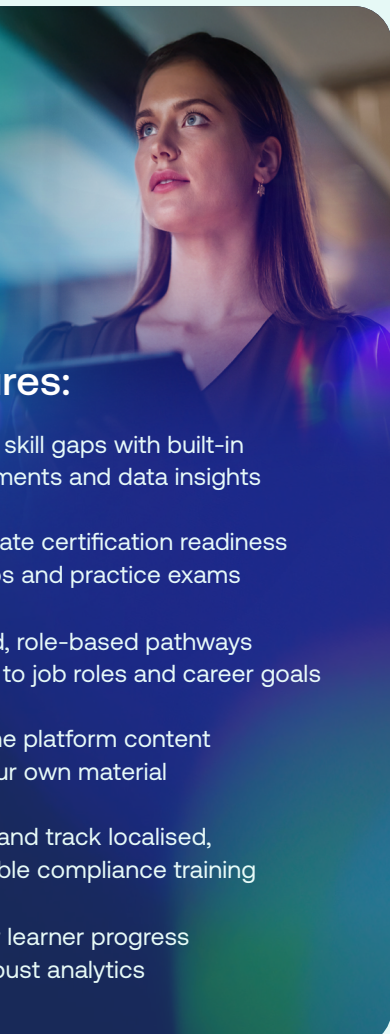

Technical leaders face growing pressure to close skill gaps fast, retain top talent, and keep up with constant change — all within tight budgets and limited time. While traditional learning remains a valuable option for deep, focused training, it's not always practical at scale or on demand.

That's why Lumify now offers a smart, cost-effective Learning Experience Platform (LXP) that extends learning beyond the classroom. Powered by AI, the platform delivers instant access to personalised learning, hands-on labs, and certification prep across today's most in-demand technologies. It's enterprise-ready and helps you build and prove capability — without the complexity or high cost.

Key Features:

-  Identify skill gaps with built-in assessments and data insights
-  Accelerate certification readiness with labs and practice exams
-  Curated, role-based pathways aligned to job roles and career goals
-  Combine platform content with your own material
-  Assign and track localised, reportable compliance training
-  Monitor learner progress with robust analytics
