INHERENT RISKS IN TRADING THE INSTRUMENTS OFFERED ON CRYPTO.COM | DERIVATIVES NORTH AMERICA

The Instruments traded on crypto.com | Derivatives North America have a high degree of risk. Currently, there are two types of Instrument that trade on crypto.com | Derivatives North America.

1) The first type of Instrument is similar to a cash-settled binary European-style call option contract and is referred to as a Binary contract. Such Instruments offered through crypto.com | Derivatives North America are comprised of one contract that has a defined Payout Criterion covering all possible outcomes dependent upon whether you enter into a long or short position in such Binary contract. This means that if you purchase and hold a long position in a Binary contract at Expiration, and the Expiration Value is not within the Payout Criterion for the long position you have chosen to hold, that contract will expire worthless. Similarly, if you hold a short position in a Binary contract at Expiration, and the Expiration Value is within the Payout Criteria, you will lose all of your original investment.

2) The second type of Instrument is a Variable Payout Contract. Variable Payout Contracts include Call Spreads, which have a fixed Expiration, and Touch Brackets, which have a conditional Expiration. This means that if you hold a long position in a Variable contract at Expiration, and the Expiration Value is not within the Payout Criterion for the position that you have chosen to hold, you may lose all of your original investment. Similarly, if you hold a short position (which has a value that moves inversely to a long position) in a Variable contract at Expiration, and the Expiration Value is not within the Payout Criterion for the position that you have chosen to hold, you may lose all of your original investment.

The unique nature of crypto.com | Derivatives North America Instruments may be confusing to many investors who are familiar with more traditional derivatives contracts. Risks associated with the unique nature of the crypto.com | Derivatives North America Market include a potential lack of liquidity for crypto.com | Derivatives North America Instruments. Other derivatives markets have professional traders who ensure that there are always competitive offers to buy and sell Contracts. crypto.com | Derivatives North America may not have such liquidity providers for some or all of its instruments. Therefore, there is a possibility that you could hold a position in an Instrument from crypto.com | Derivatives North America and be unable to liquidate your position in the Instrument or the portion of the position that you no longer want to hold in the time frame you wish to liquidate it. Additionally, there is a chance that no one will offer to sell you or bid to buy from you an Instrument you want to take a position in or to liquidate due to current market conditions or otherwise. Lack of liquidity in the market could also preclude you from selling large blocks of Instruments at once. If crypto.com | Derivatives North America lacks liquidity in the Instruments you want to trade for any reason, you may be unable to trade at your desired time or price. If that occurs, you may be forced to hold them until they expire, possibly preventing you from hedging the risk to which you are exposed.

For instance, you could purchase Instruments on the Nonfarm Payrolls to be published by the Bureau of Labor Statistic at a particular time in the future, but in the interim, the government could change the way the Nonfarm Payrolls is determined or cease publishing that index.

In the event of a material change in the nature of any of the Underlyings, or if any of the Underlyings cease to exist, crypto.com | Derivatives North America may adjust the relevant Instruments or the payments to be received under those Instruments based on its best judgment, and its decision shall be final. The decision reached by crypto.com | Derivatives North America could be different than you anticipated when you took a position in the affected Instrument, and as a result, you could suffer significant losses.

Another risk inherent to trading crypto.com | Derivatives North America Instruments is that the Instrument may not settle as expected. For example, the information related to the Payout Criterion may be changed in accordance with the crypto.com | Derivatives North America Rules, the anticipated result may not occur on schedule, or the results of the occurrence may be ambiguous in the way crypto.com | Derivatives North America initially defined the Payout Criterion.

A further risk inherent to trading crypto.com | Derivatives North America Instruments involves crypto.com | Derivatives North America not halting the market in accordance with the underlying market. The specific movements of any underlying market cannot be predicted with exact precision. For example, you could purchase an instrument based on gasoline prices at the pump ("Gasoline"). Prior to expiration of your instrument, the price of Gasoline could be effected by a loss of refinery capacity due to an accident or other incident or for various other reasons unforeseeable to crypto.com | Derivatives North America. However, crypto.com | Derivatives North America may choose not to halt the trading of the Instrument in contrast to the underlying market. This may affect the way the value of your Instrument is calculated and settled.
