Major

Open Position: Multi-Family Residential Interiors Studio Designer

Major creates architecture for everyone. We are a full-service design firm that believes thoughtfully crafted spaces make for better interactions, better homes, better cities and ultimately a better world. Major is led by Marc Kushner, founder of HWKN and Architizer, who is joined by a talented team of architects and interior, graphic, product, branding, and experiential designers. Together, we work between disciplines to bring a fully integrated design approach to each of our projects.

We are hiring someone to work with the design team to develop interiors concepts for our multifamily residential studio. The candidate will work on interior design, development, and delivery with a small team and report directly to the principal. He or she will have experience completing high-standard interior projects throughout the project lifespan. The role requires a comprehensive understanding of spatial design and an eye for materiality, color, and detail. Experience leading a team is a plus.

Candidate Qualifications

• Bachelors or Masters of Architecture degree
• 3-4 years experience in concept design, space planning, detailing, FF&E, and construction administration
• Ability to manage internal teams coordinate with external consultant teams
• Proficient in Revit, Rhino, AutoCAD, and Adobe CS
• Excellent design, visualization, organization, interpersonal, and problem-solving skills
• Works well both individually and collaboratively
• Legal working status in the US
• Current or imminent residency in the NYC region

Role Requirements

• Take ownership of concept and detail design of project interiors
• Develop space planning and layouts of interiors in line with client and code requirements
• Produce materials palettes, detail drawings, FF&E selections, and specification and procurement documentation
• Manage the project materials library
• Support development of designs with high-quality visualizations including diagrams, sketches, drawings, and 3D renderings
• Work collaboratively with technical consultants, project managers, engineers and other stakeholders
• Guide and manage internal team members
• Work on multiple projects and deliverables simultaneously
• Take initiative and ownership in completing project tasks
• Bring design sensibility, craftsmanship, and thoroughness to your work
• Maintain an organized content workflow throughout production consistent with studio standards and procedures

Our office provides full benefits including health benefits, competitive PTO, parental leave, 401K, and mentoring and reimbursement for ARE exams.
