

Mari Jayne is a licensed Signs of Safety Trainer and Consultant and draws on over 30 years of experience working in children's services as a practitioner and as a manager. She has worked across the continuum of service; Early Help; Child in Need; Child Protection; and Children Looked After.

Mari's introduction to Signs of Safety came in 2006 when she was working in North Yorkshire. She saw first-hand the difference the approach made when working with children, young people and their families, and how important it is to involve children, parents and their naturally-connected network in the decision-making process.

Mari gained an international perspective while working as an agency lead for Signs of Safety in Child Welfare organisation in Ontario, Canada.

Mari is a keen advocate of Group Supervision and Appreciative Inquiry, having seen as a manager how this can be used to build strong teams where learning and inquiry are promoted.

Since 2015, Mari has delivered training and consultancy to organisations across the United Kingdom.

Mari has developed knowledge and expertise in the relatively new Signs of Safety IT solution, recognising how important it is for workers to have an electronic recording system that supports their work.
