To start editing your listing, you need to go to your dashboard. To do that, just click on My Dashboard under the Account icon at the top right of your screen.

My Dashboard

The first section of your listing is your contact information. Make sure you give your listing a name under the custom property headline. Your email will not be visible on your listing, but you can choose to make your phone number visible. Travelers frequently reach out to landlords via phone and text, so we highly recommend making your phone number visible. Once completed, let's click on next.

Now let's take care of your calendar. This is a critical step to your listing's success. On the calendar, mark your minimum length of stay and any dates that your property is not available. Our system will use those two pieces of information to determine your availability and match you with tenants. It's important to keep this up to date as you have new reservations or days that are unavailable for tenants to book. You can also click on Link my calendar with my Airbnb or VRBO if you would like to connect those calendar systems together.
