

This Year's Oscar-Nominated Movie Music Hits the Airwaves

Classical California honors the composers of "Bugonia," "Frankenstein," "Hamnet," "Sinners" and "One Battle After Another"

CHRIS NICHOLS · 24 HOURS AGO

Film Composer Alexandre Desplat
Credit: Photo by Zennie Abraham

This week, America's largest classical public radio station, Classical California, is hosting Movie Week from today through Friday, February 27. The all-day 12-hour blocks will include not only the best movie scores but specifically focus on music composed by this year's crop of Academy Award nominees. Host Brian Lauritzen will air interviews and music from the creators of movie music for films including Bugonia, Hamnet and One Battle After Another. Monday was Guillermo del Toro's Frankenstein, composed by Alexandre Desplat.

The French composer has already been awarded two Oscars for his work on The Shape of Water and Grand Budapest Hotel. "There has always been an attraction in film music, Glass told Gramophone. "It's the only place in our world where there is some actual money."

Classical California Movie Week

February 23 to 27 from 8am to 8pm

KUSC 91.5FM

Monday: Frankenstein, Alexandre Desplat

Tuesday: Sinners, Ludwig Göransson

Wednesday: One Battle After Another, Johnny Greenwood

Thursday: Hamnet, Max Richter

Friday: Bugonia, Jerskin Fendrix

For media and partnership opportunities, please contact mmueller@classicalcalifornia.org.