

Maps are a general representation of mobile coverage. Areas shown are approximate, actual coverage may vary from map graphics. Coverage shown represents the 2G network, a legacy network technology with limited services available, including talk and text only, with no support for data services. A monthly legacy network charge will apply if your usage exclusively relies on the 2G network.

