

The Fast Track to Productivity

It's no secret that well-trained employees are more productive—and a productive staff is your quickest route to ROI. How do you ensure your staff is operating at peak efficiency?

A robust learning management system (LMS) helps reduce costs and increase productivity—faster—while teaching your employees the skills, policies and cultural norms they need to help move your business forward.

No Time to Lose

Training takes time and, often, travel, driving up costs and preventing learners from completing daily tasks. eLearning can be self-paced and remote, eliminating barriers to productivity.

eLearning vs. Traditional Learning

eLearning takes 40-60% less time

Cover 5x more material in the same time

Reach Peak Performance—and Stay There

eLearning helps you capitalize on the time and money you spend training your staff.

eLearning increases retention rates by up to 60%.

91%

91% of companies who kept their first-year workers had an engaging onboarding program.

Productivity = Profits

A more productive workforce means less wasted effort and higher profits.

eLearning has led to an increase in revenue for 42% of companies.

After taking their training online, IBM saved around $200M (IBM Study)
