Preview: When you know it's time, Brightline is the right place.

Brightline understands that you know your child better than anyone. And when it's hurt feelings or a scraped knee, you're the first and best person to care for them.

But when it comes to things like depression, anxiety, ADHD, OCD, or autism, it's easy to feel unsure of how to help. It's also really hard to recognize — and sometimes, admit — that something feels different.

When the right help is within reach, the weight starts to lift. And from the moment you connect with Brightline, you'll feel that. (This is where things start to get better.)

Brightline's pediatric clinical team takes the chaos, the noise, your questions, and doubts, and uses them to clear a path that makes sense for your family. It's based on what you need and what they know will start to work right away.

Their expert clinicians have real-world expertise, and they use proven research to guide families towards real, lasting progress through:

- psychological testing (for things like OCD, learning disorders, school readiness, etc.)
- diagnostic evaluation and follow-up sessions
- care planning and measured progress
- identifying barriers and defining the right care path
- building trusted relationships with kids and parents

What you're going through may be new to you, but it's not new to them. When you know it's time, Brightline is the right place.
