iF DESIGN AWARD 2023:
The countdown is on! The last submissions for the iF DESIGN AWARD 2023 are still possible until 10 November 2022

In ten days – on 10 November 2022 – the registration period for the iF DESIGN AWARD 2023 ends. Those who would like to have their design performance reviewed by international, independent design experts should register their work online at www.ifdesign.com. Since 1954, the iF DESIGN AWARD is one of the world's largest and most important design competitions. It is a symbol of design excellence that focuses on the innovative power of design.

Every year, around 10,000 product and project innovations are submitted for the iF DESIGN AWARD. Companies, designers, agencies, builders, architects and interior architects from all over the world use the iF DESIGN AWARD as a test and appreciate its high value – not least as an established marketing tool.
