MÜNCHEN ATLAS

PIONEERING WORKING LANDSCAPES

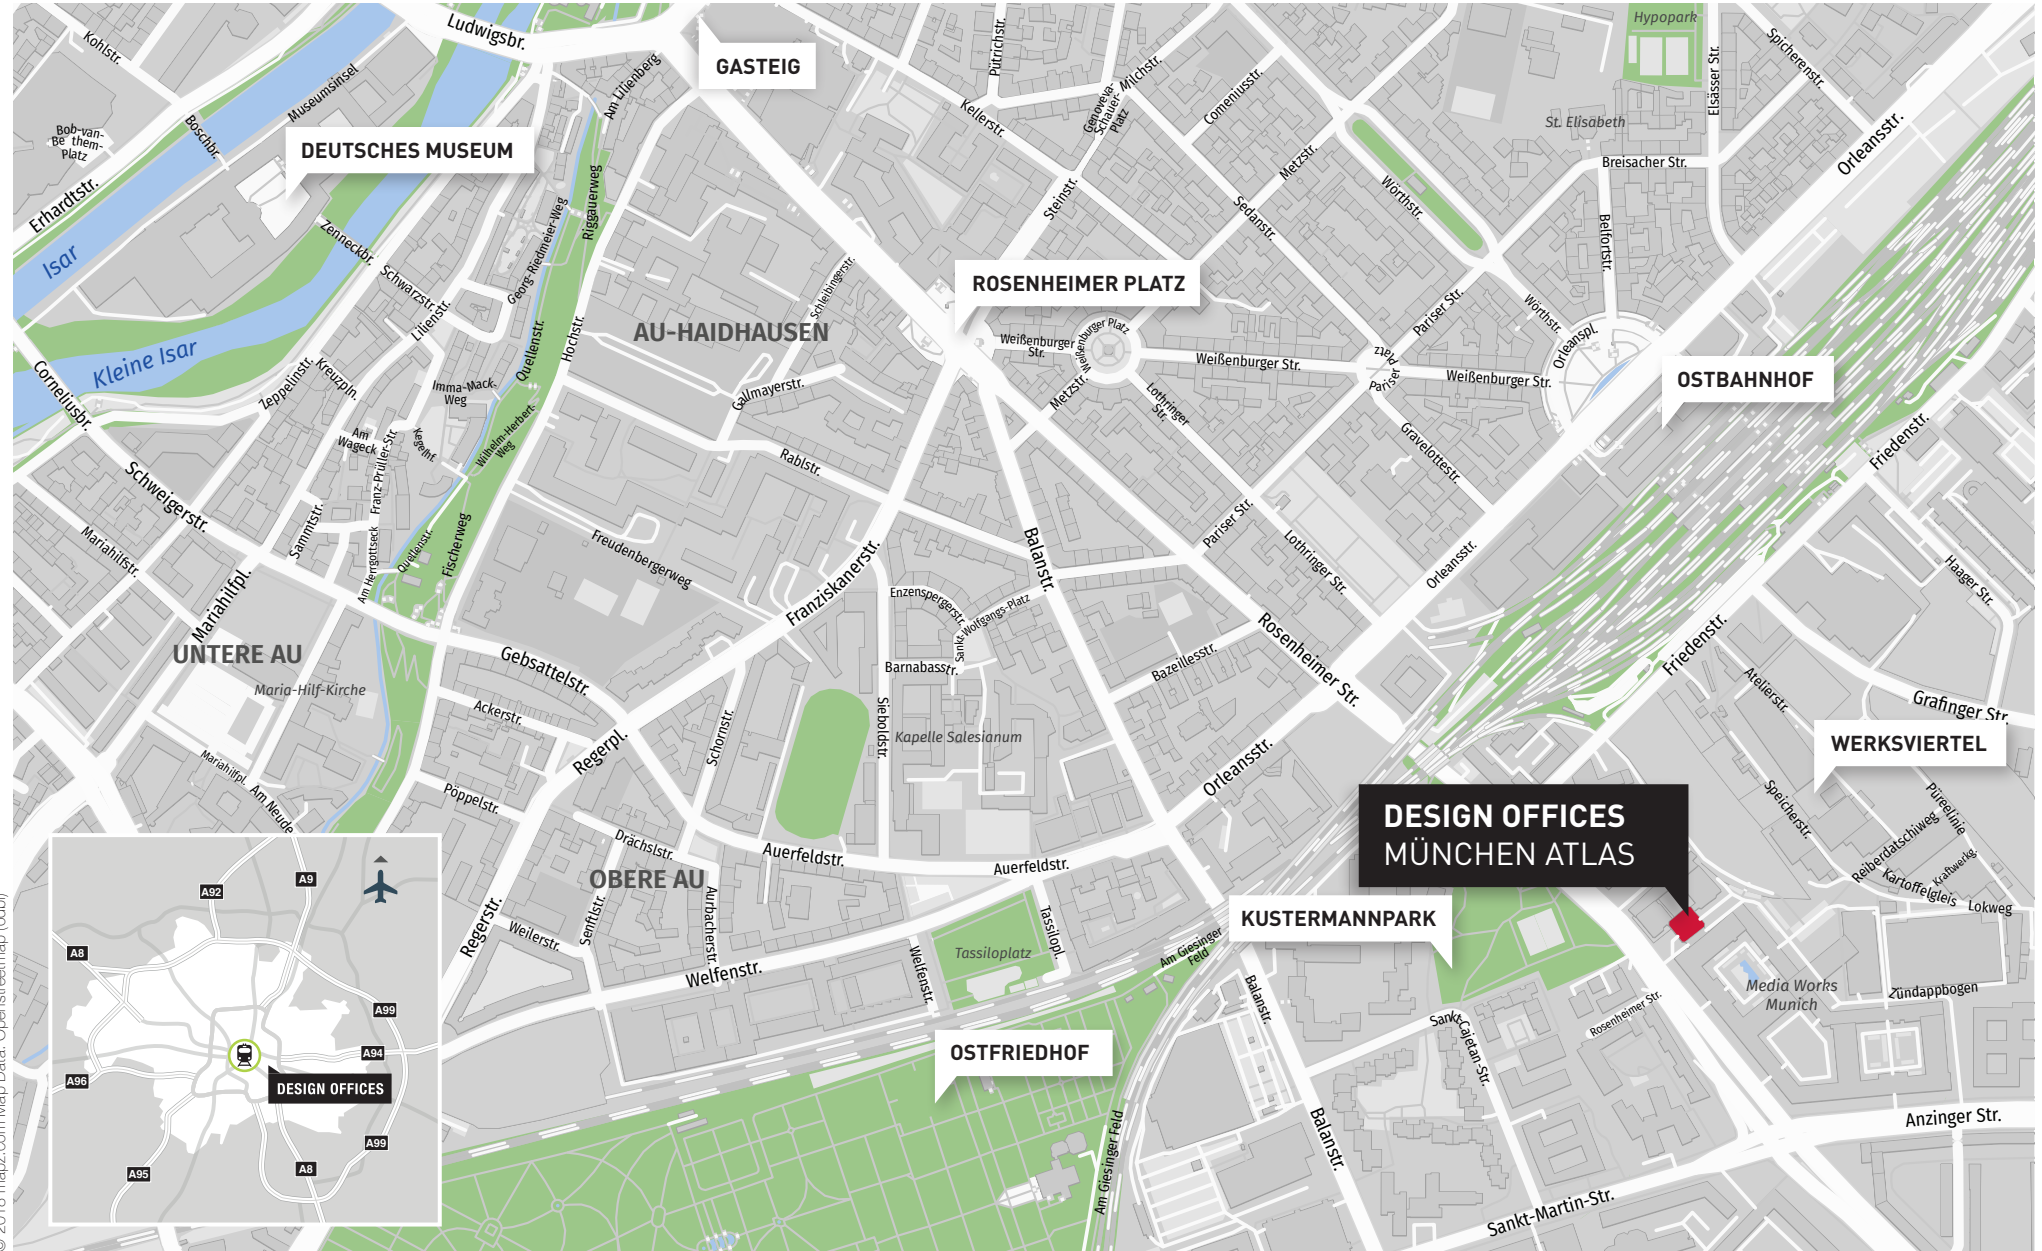

SITE

TOP FEATURES

Munich East is the new hotspot for the creative scene, start-ups and media companies. Here, in the Werksviertel media works district, where renowned companies like Pfanni and Konen once helped set the pace for Germany's economic miracle, is the place where the high-tech boom is taking shape. The architectural landmarks of this revitalized popular urban area are the iconic Medienbrücke towers and the newly constructed Atlas building. The glowing orange sphere on the roof of this futuristic office building has long been a familiar charismatic sight for Munich's inhabitants. The Werksviertel media works district not only has almost magical attraction for representatives of new work, the cultural scene has also discovered it for itself a while ago. It was thus a logical step to build the new concert house for Bavaria's capital here. Atlas is perfect for holding conferences, coworking and even celebrating in a trend-setting working milieu, while being treated to a breath-taking Alpine panorama from all storeys, as well as from the three terraces. Whether your employees work here on a temporary or permanent basis, this location is sure to have a positive effect on the reputation of your business.

- Coworking, meetings and events across 10,000 m²
