FAQs

Q: What is the endocrine system and what does it do?

A: Your endocrine system comprises eight major glands, each of which secretes different types of hormones that regulate metabolism, growth/development, sexual function, reproduction, sleep, mood, and other important functions.

Q: How does Prime Again® support my endocrine system?

A: Prime Again® supports your endocrine system with “fire element” herbs that work in harmony with hormone-producing glands. Benefits of taking Prime Again may include relief of PMS and menopausal symptoms, as well as strengthening of your nervous system and your body’s ability to handle stress.

HOW TO USE

Take two capsules three times a day at meal time.
