INGREDIENT HIGHLIGHTS

KOREAN WHITE GINSENG

This form of ginseng, also referred to as Panax ginseng, is used in supportive therapy for the promotion of healthy blood glucose levels. The most active components of this herb are ginsenosides, which have been shown to have antioxidant properties. Panax ginseng is also used in Herbal Medicine as an adaptogen to help increase energy and resistance to stress, including mental and physical fatigue related to stress.

CHRYSANTHEMUM

This beautiful flower contains antioxidants and essential minerals and is used to make a cooling tea.

HOW TO USE

Adults: Take 5 tablets per day. Consult with a health care practitioner for use beyond 3 months.

FAQs

Q: Ginseng is often referred to as an adaptogen in Herbal Medicine. What is an adaptogen?

A: An adaptogen is a nonmedical term used in Herbal Medicine to describe substances that reportedly strengthen the body and increase general resistance to daily stress. Adaptogens have been studied throughout history as a way to improve the body's ability to respond to stress, increase energy and attention, and help ward off fatigue.

Q: Can men take Beauty Pearl® too?

A: Yes. It is perfectly safe for men to take Beauty Pearl®; they can enjoy the same benefits as women.
