INGREDIENT HIGHLIGHTS

L-ARGININE

This amino acid is involved in protein synthesis and provides antioxidants for the maintenance of good health.

N-ACETYL-L-CARNITINE HYDROCHLORIDE

This modified amino acid is a mitochondrial metabolite that facilitates the movement of fatty acids into the mitochondria for energy. Research also indicates that N-Acetyl-L-Carnitine hydrochloride may have neuroprotective benefits and help to decrease oxidative stress.

DL-ALPHA-LIPOIC ACID

This source of antioxidants is vital to cellular energy production and helps to promote healthy glucose metabolism.

FAQs

Q: Who can benefit from taking MetaBooster®?

A: Made with owner expertise, the fast-acting natural formula not only helps support metabolism but also supplies powerful, easily absorbable antioxidants to fight against free radicals and support overall health.

Q: Why are the highly concentrated antioxidants in MetaBooster® important?

A: As Sunrider founder and world-renowned herbalist Dr. Tei-Fu Chen said: "Our bodies are like automobiles. We 'burn' food to create energy and emit 'pollution' as a by-product. In a car, the pollution goes out of the exhaust. In our bodies, some of the pollution is excreted, but some of the pollution remains in the form of free radicals, which attack healthy cells to stabilize themselves, causing premature aging, cellular damage, and disease. Antioxidants help stabilize free radicals and prevent cellular damage."
