FAQ

Q: What's so special about the vitamin C in this product?

A: Tetrahexyldecyl, the form of vitamin C used in this product, is exceptional for several reasons. It's super-concentrated, ensuring potent effects with every application. It's a stable and oil-soluble form of vitamin C, which means it can penetrate the skin effectively. This enables it to support collagen production, promoting firmer and more resilient skin. This form of vitamin C also has powerful antioxidant properties, helping to lighten pigmented areas and protect against damage caused by sun exposure. Unlike unstable forms of vitamin C, tetrahexyldecyl maintains its efficacy over time, ensuring consistent and long-lasting benefits for your skin.

Q: When in my routine do I use this product?

A: For optimal results, incorporate this product into your skincare routine after using Oi-Lin® Facial Toner and follow up with the Oi-Lin® Deep Moisture Lotion. This sequence ensures that your skin receives the full benefits of each product, providing nourishment, hydration, and protection in the most effective way possible.

Q: Why is it so important to use sunscreen after using a vitamin C product?

A: It's crucial to apply sunscreen after using a vitamin C product because vitamin C can increase skin sensitivity to sunlight, potentially leading to sunburn and UV damage. Sunscreen provides a protective barrier against harmful UV rays, helping to prevent premature aging and sunburn. This combination ensures that your skin receives the benefits of vitamin C while safeguarding it from the damaging effects of sun exposure.

HOW TO USE

Apply a pea-sized amount on face and neck after your skincare regimen. Follow with sunscreen.

Always read the product label—use as directed.
