Trade Practices Compliance Notice

GS1 Australia Trade Practice Compliance Notice

Participants on GS1 Boards, committees, task forces, work groups, or other similar bodies, must always remember the purpose of the Board, committee, task force, or work group is to enhance the ability of all industry members to compete more efficiently and effectively to provide better value to the consumer or end user. GS1 activity almost always involves the cooperation of competitors; therefore great care must be taken to assure compliance with trade practices laws in Australia and in other jurisdictions

This means:

- Participation must be voluntary.
- There will no exchange of confidential information such as prices products.
- Meetings will have a pre-prepared agenda and recorded by minutes.
- All recommendations from any meeting are recommendations only. Individual companies remain free to make independent, competitive decisions.
- Any standards developed must be voluntary standards.
- If any participant believes the group is drifting toward impermissible discussion, the topic shall be tabled until the opinion of lawyer(s) with experience in trade practices law can be obtained.

Background & Why are we here?

Why are we here?

- The National Product Catalogue originated from a piece of national research that stated that there was a need for a 'national product catalogue' to support the need for better quality product data within healthcare.
- The remit to set up & provide governance to this piece of national infrastructure for Australian healthcare was initially given to the National eHealth Transition Authority (NeHTA), and then transitioned to the Australian Digital Health Agency.
- GS1 Australia was chosen in 2006 to provide the service (based on GDSN) but it has always been developed with Industry for Industry to ensure it reflects the industry needs.
- Ongoing guidance continues to be required to ensure the service continues to meet and evolve with industry and user changing needs. The role of this group is to provide an advisory forum for the purposes of continuing to guide GS1 Australia in the provision of the service on behalf of industry.
