Media Matters

The Kitchen's upcoming media events include Tom Rubnitz: A Video Retrospective, continuing in the video screening room through May 15. Tom Rubnitz has been living with AIDS for four years, and has witnessed the deaths of countless friends and collaborators, yet his work has never wavered in its joyful celebration of life; it is a unique document of a remarkable generation of young, mostly gay performers, many of whom have succumbed to AIDS. Featured videotapes include: "Plastic Rap," "John Sex: The True Story," "Made for T.V.," "The Drag Queen Marathon," "WIGSTOCK: The Movie," and "The Mother Show." The video screening room is free and open to the public Monday through Friday, 1:00 p.m.- 6:00 p.m. For more information and complete schedule of titles and times, contact: The Kitchen, 512 West 19th Street, New York, NY 10011; (212) 255-5793.
