

The Kitchen Center for Video and Music

Village Voice, May 31, 1978

Tuesday 6

● Not only will you see Jackie Bornstein's pictures of Little Italy tonight—the churches, the restaurants, and the discos—you can eat good antipasto and drink some wine supplied by local merchants, free. 4th Street Photo Gallery, 67 East 4th Street, 673-1021.

● Kit Fitzgerald and John Sanborn are mounting a video installation tonight at the Kitchen. It's called Aquaral, and, briefly, it's a "compressed report about water," with four video monitors displaying water in various forms. The accompanying soundtrack plays dripping, splashing, and otherwise moving water sounds. Kitchen, 484 Broome Street, 925-3615, through June 17.
