

HYPERALLERGIC

Hyperallergic Spring 2026 New York Art Guide

The gleeful subversiveness of Duchamp at MoMA, the first major US show on Raphael at The Met, and exhibitions on spirituality, the body, fashion, and more.

March 2, 2026

Tromarama: Upon a Machine

The Kitchen, Westbeth Artists Housing, 163B Bank Street, 4th Floor Loft, West Village, Manhattan

April 23–June 13

Tromarama, "Upon a Machine" (2026), soprano recorder, melodica, bar chimes, used goods, DC fan, monitor, magic arm, hose, hose clamp, custom computer program, variable dimension (photo Ruddy Hatumena, courtesy the Kitchen)

Tromarama's first institutional exhibition in the US continues the Indonesian collective's investigation into the gray area between leisure and labor using artificial intelligence. It may sound high-concept, but they keep things interesting by anchoring the installation with unexpected references that combine pop culture and Marxism.