Mofungo/Ordinaires/Beastie Boys: Downtown music is as downtown music does, and I say (Sandow sez different) that this is much the best of four grungy Christmas-well art-rock tripleheaders in our most prestigious downtown music space. I should add, however, that the estimable V-Effect will appear with Toy Killers and Interference the night before. December 30, the Kitchen, 484 Broome Street, 925-3615. (Christgau)

Village Voice, Dec. 21, 1982

Latin/Cuba/Salsa Festival: "The best music in NY," says Jeffrey Lohn, presenting it for downtown sophisticates at what's all the more an art space for opening its doors to the world. January 7 and 8, the Kitchen, 484 Broome Street, 925-3615. (Sandow)

January 4

Bands at the Kitchen: It's post-modernism with a vengeance when downtown's venerable art space offers night after night of musical scruff. And it's fun! Bill's Friends, Sonic Youth (hot), and Swans (named for the personality of the bird, not its looks), December 27; Elephant Dance, Mon Ton Son (violin, guitar, and—yes, you read it right—record player), and The Mob, December 28. 484 Broome Street. 925-3615. (Sandow)
