THE KITCHEN PRESENTS RE:GROUP WORKS, A NIGHT OF READINGS AND ARTISTIC RESPONSES TO CELLIST ETHAN PHILBRICK’S GROUP WORKS: ART, POLITICS, AND COLLECTIVE AMBIVALENCE, JUNE 7

Event Features Solo Contributions from Morgan Bassichis and Mariana Valencia, and Responses from Collaborative Duos Lauren Bakst and Niall Jones, and Brandon Lopez and Fred Moten

Presented in Partnership with Women & Performance: a journal of feminist theory

“Philbrick’s book manages to preserve both the powerful fantasy of assembly alongside its more noxious aspects… By finding moments of unconventional grouping, Philbrick takes the failure to cohere as a marker for the dissonant ensembles that our moment requires and that we can find in odd groupings of dancers, dreamers, slackers, and reluctant revolutionaries.” — Jack Halberstam, in BOMB Magazine

The Kitchen presents Ethan Philbrick: Re:Group Works (June 7), a night of readings and artistic responses to the cellist, artist, and writer’s book Group Works: Art, Politics, and Collective Ambivalence. Published this year by Fordham University Press, Group Works is an exciting new reflection on the role of artistic collaboration, collectivism, and the politics of group formation in the neoliberal era. Written against both phobic and romantic accounts of collectivity, Group Works contends that the group emerges as a medium for artists when established forms of collective life break down. Ethan Philbrick: Re:Group Works is organized by Alison Burstein, Curator, and presented in partnership with Women & Performance: a journal of feminist theory.
For this evening in the organization’s temporary home at Westbeth Artists Housing (163B Bank Street, 4th Floor Loft), Philbrick convenes a small assembly of artists to respond to his book, in dialogue with The Kitchen’s founding ethos as a site for collective experimentation. Philbrick’s text here becomes a prompt to incite the creation of music, movement, spoken word, and group improvisation. In addition to solo contributions from Morgan Bassichis and Mariana Valencia, the evening will feature responses from two collaborative duos: Lauren Bakst and Niall Jones, and Brandon Lopez and Fred Moten.

About the Artists

Lauren Bakst is an artist, writer, and scholar working through experimental performance. Her practices engage the social life of study and the possibilities of dissonant communion. Bakst’s performance works include after summer, or not in the kitchen (the bed, the bathroom, the dance floor and other spaces) (2019) and More Problems with Form (2019). Her writing has been published by Wendy’s Subway and she has been a part of the editorial team of the Movement Research Performance Journal. Bakst has taught at University of the Arts School of Dance and The Cooper Union. She is currently working toward Vol. 3 of The School for Temporary Liveness and is a PhD candidate in English at the University of Pennsylvania.

Niall Jones is an artist working and living in New York City. Jones constructs, inhabits, and explores the theater as a mode and location of instabilities. Working through an ongoing fascination with labor, temporality, and fantasy, Jones creates immersive, liminal sites for practicing incompleteness and refusal. Jones received a Bessie Award nomination for Outstanding Emerging Choreographer in 2017 and, more recently, a 2021 Grants-To-Artists Award from the Foundation for Contemporary Art. Recent works include: A Work for Others at The Kitchen OnScreen (2021); Fantasies in Low Fade at Chocolate Factory Theater, New York City (2019); Sis Minor: The Preliminary Studies at Hebbel am Ufer, Berlin (2018); Sis Minor, in Fall at Abrons Arts Center, New York City (2018), and Splendor #3 at Gibney Dance: Agnes Varis Performing Arts Center, New York City (2017). Jones received a BFA from the Virginia Commonwealth University and an MFA from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He teaches at the University of the Arts, School of Dance in Philadelphia, where he is also producer and co-curator of The School for Temporary Liveness (Vol. 1 & 2).

Brandon Lopez is a New York-based composer and bassist working at the fringes of jazz, free improvisation, noise, and new music. His music has been praised as “brutal” (Chicago Reader) and “relentless” (The New York Times). From the New York Philharmonic’s David Geffen Hall to the DIY basements of Brooklyn, Lopez has worked beside many luminaries of jazz, classical, poetry, and experimental music, including Fred Moten, John Zorn, Okkyung Lee, Ingrid Laubrock, Tony Malaby, Tyshawn Sorey, Bill Nace, Chris Potter, Edwin Torres, Tom Rainey, Cecilia Lopez, Sun Ra Arkestra, Susan Alcorn, Mette Rasmussen, and many others. As a 2019–2020 Artist in Residence at Roulette, Lopez played with his trio consisting of Gerald Cleaver, and Steve Baczkowski, a 4tet adding Cecilia Lopez, as well as a solo performance and duet with Greg Kelley. This continued Lopez’s work as 2018 Artist-in-Residence at Issue Project Room and 2018 Van Lier Fellow at Roulette Intermedium. Recent highlight performances include opening the 2018–2019 season of the New York Philharmonic as a featured soloist in Ashley Fure’s “Filament” and a number of works with John Zorn, including Zorn’s 35th anniversary of “Cobra.”

Mariana Valencia works through dance. A choreographer and performer, her commissions include Baryshnikov Arts Center, The Chocolate Factory Theater, Danspace Project, The Whitney Museum, The Shed, Performance Space New York, and Abrons Arts Center. Valencia’s work has toured in England, Germany, Korea, Norway, Macedonia, and Serbia. Her residencies include AUNTS, Chez Bushwick, New York Live Arts, ISSUE Project Room, Brooklyn Arts Exchange, Gibney Dance Center, Movement Research, and the Portland Institute for Contemporary Art (OR). Valencia is an LMCC Extended Life grantee, a Whitney Biennial artist, a Bessie Award recipient for Outstanding Breakout Choreographer, a Bessie Award nominee for Best Production, a Foundation for Contemporary Arts Award to Artists grant recipient, a Jerome Travel and Study Grant fellow, and a Movement Research GPS/Global Practice Sharing artist. She is a founding member of the No Total reading group and has been the co-editor of Movement Research’s Critical Correspondence.
