

WORDLESS BOOKS

Open up your imagination and enjoy a book with your child removing the pressure of having to focus on the words. Point things out together, act out the plot, make sound effects. You'll find something different to talk about every time you read!

The Snowman by Raymond Briggs

The Snowman follows a little boy and his snowman — which comes alive in his dreams that night — as they explore the wonders of the world.

Where to buy

Journey by Aaron Becker

Imagine you could draw a door on your wall and then step out into a magical world! Anything is possible in this incredibly rewarding adventure.

Where to buy

Clown by Quentin Blake

If you love Quentin Blake illustrations then this is a must have in your collection. It's a heartwarming story of a toy clown on a quest for a new home.

Where to buy

Bee & Me by Alison Jay

Unlock the natural world. A great one for nature lovers learning about the importance of bees and how we can protect them.

Where to buy

A Ball for Daisy by Chris Raschka

Poor Daisy is heartbroken over the loss of her favourite toy. Easily relatable for all children and ultimately full of joy.

Where to buy

Tuesday by David Wiesner

It's a Tuesday evening and an army of frogs on flying lily pads are approaching. A fun and unique adventure is about to be had.

Where to buy