

LAM Information

The special option LAM is available in our premium Kitemark approved cylinders, pextra and expert. LAM offers you extra protection, with additional steel reinforcement to comply with attack resistance grade 2, the highest classification under the European Standard: EN 1303.

The cylinder is a vulnerable element in the assembly and the security of any door relies on a combination of various factors including the door construction, material and physical environment surrounding the door itself. dormakaba, as a manufacturer, will always recommend the use of additional security measures such as fitting a security rose, security handles and employing robust key control procedures. dormakaba and associated subsidiaries cannot be held liable for loss of security as a result of failure to adequately address the factors mentioned above.

LAM:

- Available in Cyl/turn and key/key options
- Available in Euro profile
- Available in built cylinders
- Available on component form to authorised partners

Also available as a special option, pextra LAM SBS with reinforced steel plate and SBS cuts.
