HOLIDAY HARM REDUCTION TIPS

If you decide to use drink alcohol or use drugs:

Make a plan. Make sure you have a safe method to return home. Or, spend time at a friend's or relative's house.

Get a ride home. If you have been drinking alcohol or using drugs, get a ride home with a driver who has not been drinking or using drugs, use a rideshare service, or call a taxi. If your teen calls for a ride home, you are a parent, pick them up.

Find a buddy. Don't use drugs by yourself. Take turns using so the other person can give you naloxone if needed. If you're alone, use a virtual spotter and make sure someone knows where you are.

Avoid mixing substances. Combining prescription medication, alcohol, and/or illicit substances can be fatal. It is hard to predict how your body will react to using multiple substances.

Start low and go slow. Use one small dose at a time. Before taking more of a drug, give it some time to start working.

Alternate drinking water and alcohol. Before starting to drink alcohol, eat food and drink water. Avoid drinking alcohol on an empty stomach.

TALKING TO YOUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS ABOUT THEIR SUBSTANCE USE

Tips to Talk about Alcohol Use It takes courage to talk to a family member or friend about their alcohol use. These tips can help you start the conversation. bit.ly/talkingaboutalcoholuse.

Guide to Start the Conversation When a family member is drinking too much, using drugs, or struggling with a mental health disorder, your support can be key to getting them the treatment they need. Starting the conversation is the first step to getting help. bit.ly/startconvosamhsa.

Family Support Guide If you suspect your loved one is experiencing a mental or substance use disorder, you can play a central role in getting them the help they need. bit.ly/familysupportguide.

Words Matter Often unintentionally, many people still talk about addiction in ways that are stigmatizing—meaning they use words that can portray someone with a substance use disorder (SUD) in a shameful or negative way and may prevent them from seeking treatment. Read to learn more about what stigma is, how it affects people with SUD, and how you can help make a change. bit.ly/wordsmatternida.
