3 Data provision

Pursuant to Article 13(2)(e) of GDPR, we would like to inform you that the provision of data (with the exception of those indicated as “optional”) in the form, is necessary; therefore, any refusal to provide them will result in the impossibility of following up your request for assistance.

We also inform you that you will receive communications in which you will be asked to provide, on a completely optional basis, additional data.

This data will be used to send you communications that are potentially more interesting to you where you have also given consent to processing for profiled marketing purposes.

4 By whom the data are processed and to whom they are transmitted

Data are processed by employees and/or collaborators of the Company – in charge of carrying out the activities aimed at pursuing the purposes outlined above – expressly authorized and instructed to process the data.

Data are processed, on behalf of the Company, by third parties who provide performance or services instrumental to the purposes outlined in this policy, to whom appropriate operational instructions are given and designated as data processors pursuant to Article 28.3 of the GDPR (such as, for example, the website company, the management provider) and agents.

Data may be processed by third parties acting as autonomous data controllers entitled to receive the data, such as distributors, public authorities or professional firms.

5 Data transfer outside UE

Data may be transferred to countries outside the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA). Where such countries have not been deemed adequate by the European Commission through a decision pursuant Article 45 of the GDPR, the "transfer tools" referred to in Article 46 of the GDPR (such as standard contractual clauses) will be used, assessing whether "additional measures" are in place to ensure a level of protection substantially equivalent to that required by EU law.

6 Data subjects' rights

You may exercise against the Company the rights under Articles 15-22 of the GDPR and in particular:

- i) request access to data concerning you and to the information under Article 15 (purpose of processing, categories of personal data, etc.),
- ii) obtain the erasure of data in the cases provided for by Article 17 GDPR if the Company no longer has the right to process them¹,
- iii) obtain the rectification of inaccurate data or the integration of incomplete data,
- iv) obtain restriction of processing (i.e., the temporary subjecting of data to the storage operation only) in the cases provided for by Article 18 GDPR²,
- v) where the processing is based on consent or contract and is carried out by automated means, receive the data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and transmit those data to another controller without hindrance from the controller to which the personal data have been provided (portability right),
- vi) withdraw towards the Company any consent given at any time and object to receiving commercial communications also by clicking on the unsubscribe link at the bottom of each email, or through the personal area of the website.

You may also, after the data has been communicated to the third party, exercise your right to object to the processing of the data for marketing purposes against the third party.

To exercise these rights, you may contact at any time the Company by sending your request to the contact points indicated in paragraph 1 above.

Furthermore, you shall have the right to lodge a complaint with the competent supervisory authority in the Member State of your habitual residence, place of work or place of the alleged infringement.

¹ The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller the erasure of personal data in the following cases:

- a) the personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;
- b) the data subject withdraws consent on which the processing is based according to point (a) of Article 6(1), or point (a) of Article 9(2), and where there is no other legal ground for the processing;
