

Biesse announces the appointment of Caterina De Rossi as Chief Human Resources Officer and the assignment of the new role of Biesse Academy Director to Enrico Tinti

January 12, 2026 – Biesse S.p.A. (“Biesse” or the “Company”) announces the appointment of Caterina De Rossi as Chief Human Resources Officer and Executive with strategic responsibilities, tasked with leading the evolution of the Human Resources function in alignment with the Group’s growth strategies.

Caterina De Rossi has developed a broad and structured professional career within complex multinational environments, including BMW, Tetra Pak and Champion, where she held increasingly senior Human Resources leadership roles with international scope. Throughout her career, she has led significant corporate transformation initiatives, contributing to change management processes and to the development of organizations capable of sustaining long-term business growth.

At the same time, Enrico Tinti, who brings many years of experience in leading Biesse’s HR function and managing corporate training projects, has been appointed Biesse Academy Director. In this role, he will lead the Group’s new global competence development center.

“The appointment of Caterina De Rossi as Chief Human Resources Officer reflects a clear strategic choice: to strengthen the Human Resources function as a key driver in translating the Group’s strategic priorities into organizational decisions, development models and aligned capabilities,” said Roberto Selci, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Biesse. “Furthermore, the appointment of Enrico Tinti to lead the new Biesse Academy, together with his solid professional background, strong internal reputation and deep knowledge of the organization, represents a key driver in strengthening capabilities and reinforcing Biesse’s position as the benchmark in our industry, the company of choice for career growth.”
