"WHERE'S IT FROM?" FAIRTRADE QUIZ

Did you know Co-op was the first supermarket in the UK to stock Fairtrade products in all stores? Co-op has helped farmers around the world get a fair price for their food for over 25 years, and the business still uses Fairtrade products in nearly every own-brand range in-store.

But where does it all come from? Test your knowledge and take the quiz below.

These are the top 5 Fairtrade producing origins not the total Fairtrade origins/Co-op sourced origins.

FAIRTRADE COCOA

Co-op has supported Fairtrade farms for over 25 years. Today, every spoonful of cocoa used, from the chocolate sprinkles on their doughnuts to the chocolate chips in their Irresistible cookies, benefits Fairtrade cocoa farmers.

FAIRTRADE SUGAR

Co-op sold their first bag of Fairtrade sugar in 2004. The Fairtrade Premium raised by Co-op sugar sales helps workers and farmers in Belize improve their lives and communities.

FAIRTRADE COFFEE

In 2003, Co-op switched its entire own-brand coffee range to Fairtrade - a first for any retailer. Since then, the business has supported thousands of smallholder coffee producers across the globe.

FAIRTRADE BANANAS

In the year 2000, Co-op introduced the UK's first Fairtrade bananas. These days, all the bananas Co-op sells are Fairtrade, and the business supports small farms by purchasing bananas straight from the source.

FAIRTRADE TEA

All Co-op's own brand tea is Fairtrade, and it has been for over 10 years. Since then, the business has supported tens of thousands of tea smallholders, workers and communities in Kenya and Malawi.
