

RESEARCH & INNOVATION EU KNOWLEDGE VALORISATION WEEK

25-28 April 2023

MAKING RESEARCH & INNOVATION RESULTS WORK FOR A RESILIENT AND SUSTAINABLE EUROPE

PROGRAMME

Supporting public health, creating business opportunities, working on the green transition, strengthening democracy – we can all benefit from research in life. The Guiding Principles for Knowledge Valorisation is the new pan-European initiative to turn research and innovation results into solutions more effectively.

At the EU Knowledge Valorisation Week, you will hear about inspiring examples of putting these guidelines into practice for the public good and your own goals. This is a forum to exchange experiences and discover novel approaches of creating value from scientific findings and inventions.

The three thematic days of the Week will focus on valorisation for sustainability, management of intellectual assets and industry-academia cooperation. With the ongoing economic shifts, those who develop and produce the technologies of tomorrow's net zero economy will clearly have the greatest competitive edge and impact on prosperity and well-being. The webinars will highlight such opportunities through peer learning.

Practitioners will also explain how the brand-new European Codes of Practice on intellectual assets management and on standardisation can help your work.

Inspired by the European Year of Skills, the Knowledge Valorisation Week will provide hands-on training for researchers, young innovators and anyone interested. On Friday, you can advance your skills in intellectual assets management in a series of free online courses.

JOIN US AND LET THE KNOWLEDGE FLOW

The EU Knowledge Valorisation Week is organised by the European Commission, Directorate-General Research and Innovation, EU Member States and EEA countries as well as stakeholders who have offered to share their best practices.
