Speaker
FAQs

2026

Get quick answers to questions about submitting and speaking at Dimensions.

When is the call for speakers open?

Our Call for Speakers opens in early March and closes in mid-April. No proposals will be accepted after closing.

Do I have to submit my speaker proposal online?

Yes. There are no offline options for submitting proposals, though we do have an offline content document available on our Call for Speakers webpage that walks you through what is required to submit a proposal.

Can I submit more than one speaker proposal?

Yes. You may submit multiple proposals, but each requires an individual online submission. Only proposals containing all required information will be reviewed.

How do I know if my proposal was submitted successfully?

After successfully submitting a proposal, you will be automatically directed to a confirmation page with your proposal ID number. You will also receive an email confirming receipt of your submission.

Can I make changes to my submission?

While you're creating your proposal, the information you enter will be saved as you advance to each new page. You can go back and make changes to any saved content at any point before clicking submit on the final page. Once the proposal is submitted, you can no longer make changes. If you inadvertently submit a proposal before it is complete, or if you notice something you wish to change in a submitted proposal, click below to contact us at

trimble_dimensions@trimble.com

When do I find out if my proposal is accepted?

Trimble reviewers begin evaluating proposals as they are received. You will receive email updates on the status of proposals beginning in late May.

When will I give my presentation?

Trimble will determine the exact date and time of each session. Sessions are scheduled throughout each day of the conference. All accepted speakers are expected to be available for whatever time slots they are assigned. Some speakers may be asked to present a session more than once.

Can I request a specific day and time to present?

No. To ensure the best experience for all attendees, speakers will be assigned session times based on the topic and content of their presentation.

How much time will I have to present?

Standard sessions are one hour long, including check-in and Q&A.

What equipment is available in session rooms?

Session rooms are typically set up theater style, with chairs, a podium, one microphone, a projector and screen, and a presentation clicker.

What are the requirements for speakers?

Speakers are expected to complete all required tasks, including but not limited to:

- Agreeing to the Trimble Dimensions Speaker Terms & Conditions

- Registering as a speaker

- Submitting a head shot

- Accessing the Dimensions Google Slides template

- Submitting a completed presentation by the listed date

- Reviewing the Trimble-approved presentation before presenting

- Presenting at the assigned scheduled times (possibly more than once)

Will I get paid to speak?

Speakers are not paid, but do receive a special registration rate of $750, with full access to the full Dimensions experience. Speakers are responsible for all other expenses, including travel, lodging, transportation, additional meals, and accidentals.

What if I paid the full registration rate before being accepted as a speaker?

Speakers who registered before being accepted as speakers will be credited the difference between the paid registration rate and the speaker rate.

If you have additional questions, reach out to us at

trimble_dimensions@trimble.com