

DAVID PEARSON

Senior Director Asia Pacific

David Pearson is Senior Director Asia Pacific at Safilo, where he has led the markets managed through direct subsidiaries and distributors since 2018. He joined Safilo in 2012 as Country Manager Australia & New Zealand, before serving as Regional Sales Director Asia Pacific and Regional Director South East Asia & Partner Markets.

Before joining Safilo, Pearson was Field and Grocery Sales Operations Manager at Johnson & Johnson Pacific, where he led national commercial operations and introduced new reporting and performance management systems.

Previously, he spent almost eight years at Essilor, holding several management positions including National Sales Manager and State Manager for New South Wales, Queensland and Western Australia. During this time, he gained extensive experience in commercial leadership, manufacturing operations and the development of sales process excellence.

He holds an MBA in Technology Management from Chifley Business School, a Master's in Health Science (Research) and a First Class Honours Bachelor of Applied Science from the University of Sydney. He has also completed executive education in leadership, strategic management and lean manufacturing.

He speaks English (mothertounge).
