Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Recoverability of the value of the equity investment in Safilo SpA

Note 4.5 to the financial statements
“Investments in subsidiaries”

The financial statements of Safilo Group SpA include the value of the investment in the subsidiary Safilo SpA for Euro 417 million, accounting for 94% of total assets. In consideration of the materiality of the investment and of the difference between the value of the investment in Safilo SpA and the contribution of its net assets to the consolidated financial statements, management tested the investment for impairment.

The entire Safilo Group is operationally controlled by the subsidiary Safilo SpA, therefore the cash flows utilised for the purpose of impairment testing were derived from the ones utilised for the purposes of the consolidated financial statements, carried out on the basis of the financial projections relating to the period 2026-2030, approved by the board of directors on 12 March 2026. The impairment test carried out did not identify any impairment loss of the investment in Safilo SpA.

Likewise, given that the same equity investment

As part of our audit of the financial statements as of 31 December 2025, we performed the procedures illustrated below.

With regard to the impairment test, we obtained the exercise prepared by management for verifying the recoverable amount of the equity investment.

Our audit approach was based on an analysis of the method used by management to prepare the impairment test and included the following procedures:

- We understood and evaluated the Company's internal control over the process of verifying the recoverability of the equity investment;
- We analysed the reasonableness of the assumptions underlying the forecasts in terms of the estimated future cash flows, in light of past results and comparing the growth rates used by management with external sources.

With the support of PwC network valuation experts, we verified that the methodologies used had been written down for impairment in previous financial years, management, supported by the opinion of an external expert, assessed the existence of any potential reversal indicators, confirming the carrying amount of the investment.

As part of the audit of the financial statements as of 31 December 2025, we focused on this area of the financial statements in consideration of the materiality of the amount recognised, also relative to total assets, and the elements of estimation inherent in the assessment of the recoverability of the carrying amount of the investment.

for the impairment test were consistent with IFRS Accounting Standards and with prevailing valuation practice.

Moreover, the key valuation parameters adopted were analysed in terms of reasonableness. With specific reference to the methods of calculation of discount rates and medium/long-term growth rates, we verified their consistency with the provisions of IFRS, with prevailing practice and with available market data.

We verified the mathematical accuracy of the calculations of the impairment test.

With regard to the assessment of the potential reversal of previously recognised impairment losses, we obtained the assessment prepared by management and the opinion it received from the external expert.

Our audit approach was based on an analysis of the reasonableness of management's evaluations and included the following procedures:

- We understood and evaluated the Company's internal control over the process of verifying the presence of indicators of impairment reversal;
- We critically reviewed the opinion prepared by the expert engaged by management, whose independence we assessed;
- We assessed the reasonableness of management's evaluations and their consistency with the provisions of IFRS;
- We independently analysed the factors of potential reversal of impairment losses;
- We verified the accuracy of the relevant data considered in management's evaluations.

Lastly, our procedures included an analysis of the explanatory notes to the financial statements to assess the adequacy and completeness of disclosures.

Responsibilities of the directors and the board of statutory auditors for the financial statements

The directors are responsible for the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board and adopted by the European Union, as well as with the regulations issued to implement article 9 of Legislative Decree 38/2005 and, in the terms prescribed by law, for such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

The directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and, in preparing the financial statements, for the appropriate application of the going concern basis of accounting, and for disclosing matters related to going concern. In preparing the financial statements, the directors use the going concern basis of accounting unless they either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The board of statutory auditors is responsible for overseeing, in the terms prescribed by law, the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISA Italia) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of our audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISA Italia), we exercised our professional judgement and maintained professional scepticism throughout the audit. Furthermore:

- We identified and assessed the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error; we designed and performed audit procedures responsive to those risks; we obtained audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- We obtained an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- We evaluated the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- We concluded on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- We evaluated the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicated with those charged with governance, identified at an appropriate level as required by ISA Italia, regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identified during our audit.

We also provided those charged with governance with a statement that we complied with the regulations and standards on ethics and independence applicable under Italian law and communicated with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate the related risks, or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determined those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We described these matters in our auditor's report.
