FRIEZE

Major Museum Exhibitions During Frieze Seoul

From a survey of Asian feminist art to exhibitions by Elmgreen & Dragset and Anicka Yi

Leeum Museum of Art: 'Anicka Yi: There Exists Another Evolution, but in This One'

Art Spectrum 2024: 'Dream Screen'

5 September – 29 December

There are two highly anticipated exhibitions at Leeum Museum of Art, where Korean-American artist Anicka Yi makes her Asian institutional debut, and Rirkrit Tiravanija brings together an engaging showcase of young Asian art.

Co-organized by UCCA Beijing, 'Anicka Yi: There Exists Another Evolution, but in This One' presents around 40 works, including new commissions that expand Yi's experimental practice as well as earlier works that trace the development of her unorthodox use of organic matter, animatronics and fragrance over the past 15 years. The exhibition features the artist's recent projects, which focus on the intelligence of non-human entities such as machines, fungi and seaweed to raise questions about anthropocentric thinking.

The museum unveils the newest edition of its long-running Art Spectrum exhibition series: a thematic group presentation of young artists hailing from across the region. With Rirkrit Tiravanija as artistic director, 'Dream Screen' navigates the varied creative sensibilities of millennial artists and collectives. Among the 24 participants are Choi Yun, Kim Heecheon and Lee Eunsae (Korea), Wang Bo and Zhang Vivien (China), Kamonlak Sukchai (Thailand) and Yi-Fan Li (Taiwan).
