

Perspective Taking & the 5 Steps of Being with Others

Perspective taking helps us make sense of social situations and understand the power of our own social thoughts, feelings, and behaviors in all aspects of our lives.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.

Step 1: I notice

I notice where I am, who is around, and what's happening.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.

Step 2: I have thoughts & feelings

I realize I have thoughts, and sometimes feelings, about what's happening and who is there. I realize you are doing the same.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.

Step 3: I try to figure out

I try to figure out why you are here, what you are doing, and why. This helps me figure out your plan or intentions.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.

Step 4:

We try to figure out

I realize that you are trying to figure out my plan or intentions too. We are trying to take each other's perspective.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.

Step 5: I decide

Based on my social goal for the situation, I monitor what I do & say & then decide whether to adjust to keep you thinking & feeling the way I hope you will.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.

Perspective Taking & the 5 Steps of Being with Others

Perspective taking helps us make sense of social situations and understand the power of our own social thoughts, feelings, and behaviors in all aspects of our lives.

Step 1: I notice

I notice where I am, who is around, and what's happening.

Step 2: I have thoughts & feelings

I realize I have thoughts, and sometimes feelings, about what's happening and who is there. I realize you are doing the same.

Step 3: I try to figure out

I try to figure out why you are here, what you are doing, and why. This helps me figure out your plan or intentions.

Step 4: We try to figure out

I realize that you are trying to figure out my plan or intentions too. We are trying to take each other's perspective.

Step 5: I decide

Based on my social goal for the situation, I monitor what I do & say & then decide whether to adjust to keep you thinking & feeling the way I hope you will.

Learn more at www.socialthinking.com/social-perspective-taking

Copyright © 2022 | Think Social Publishing, Inc.