

Atlanta Transportation Guide

Wherever you choose to begin your adventure, Atlanta's public transportation options can get you there. Stick with one or mix it up! Either way, you'll find that navigating around Atlanta is a breeze.

MARTA

MARTA is Atlanta's rapid transit rail system. It carries passengers from the airport up to Buckhead and beyond; it also runs east-west with stops across the city's vibrant neighborhoods. Get the scoop on where it can take you here.

Atlanta Streetcar

Running about every 10-15 minutes, the Atlanta Streetcar operates on a 2.7-mile loop from the convention and entertainment district to the Sweet Auburn area.

The Buckhead Uptown Connection (The Buc)

The Buc provides free service throughout the Buckhead business district. Popular destinations include the Lenox and Buckhead MARTA stations, Lenox Square, and Phipps Plaza, as well as a variety of restaurants, hotels, and office buildings.

Shuttles and Limo Services

If you're looking for a quick, easy, and elegant way to get around Atlanta, try a shuttle or limo service. These safe, courteous drivers will get you to and from your destination with no hassle.

Car/Ride-Share

Have car, will travel. Atlanta's neighborhoods and business districts are easily accessible by car, and many provide ample parking for visitors. City and state resources keep drivers in the know with traffic and construction updates.

Walking, Biking, and Scooters

Atlanta is a great city to stretch your legs. Take a stroll through its walkable in-town neighborhoods or go for a bike ride on the Atlanta Beltline. Last-mile mobility options such as Relay Bike Share and scooters (available through Bird, Lime, and Uber) are located across the city. Simply download the corresponding app, find your ride, and go. Whether you're traveling on two feet or two wheels, Atlanta has plenty of green space to feed your love of the outdoors.

Accessibility and Mobility Resources

Travelers with disabilities have access to a range of mobility and accessibility options provided by Atlanta's public transportation system, Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport, city venues, and other spaces.
