

Key Strategies to Track and Evaluate Progress Following the Implementation of an ERP

Benchmarking:

Compare your firm's financial and operational performance before and after ERP implementation to quantitatively measure the ERP's impact and identify trends over time.

Feedback from Users:

Solicit feedback from end-users about their experience to provide insights into areas that might require further optimization or additional training.

Adapting to Changes:

Stay informed about updates and upgrades provided by the ERP vendor and assess whether adopting new features can further enhance performance.

Engaging with Stakeholders:

Regularly communicate the progress of the ERP implementation to relevant stakeholders to provide transparency about the ERP's impact and maintain alignment with business goals.

Regular Performance Reviews:

Schedule periodic reviews of your ERP's performance to look at KPIs, identify areas of improvement and make any necessary adjustments.
