

California Business and Professions Code (B&P) 6061.7a requires a law school that is not approved by the American Bar Association to provide certain information on its website. The State Bar of California has provided a template form to be used by law schools. In reviewing the information set out in this reporting form, please keep the following information in mind:

Admissions information

Concord has three first year classes each year. Concord does not require applicants to its JD program to sit for the LSAT, but Concord has its own 40-question online admissions test with a minimum score requirement. During the 2021-22 reporting year, approximately 40% of applicants who undertake the online test are disqualified from applying to the JD program for not meeting required admissions test scores.

Concord's transfer policy may be reviewed in the school catalog at <http://catalog.purdueglobal.edu/concord-law-school/policy-information/academic-information/#text>

Tuition, Fees and Financial Aid

In addition to the information provided on the report form, you can also review the information at <http://concordlawschool.edu/admissions/tuition>

The Refund Policy can be reviewed in the catalog at <http://catalog.purdueglobal.edu/concord-law-school/policy-information/financial/#text>

Employment Outcomes

The employment data reported below was compiled from a survey of graduates of Concord's Juris Doctor program. Because Concord is required to report survey results for employment for each of the first three years after graduation, Concord is reporting survey results for its 2019 graduates.

Thirty-six surveys were sent out and 11 graduates responded, for an overall response rate of 30%. All respondents reported being currently employed. Of those that responded, 45% reported being employed in a position where a JD is required for their position and 54% reported that a JD was an advantage in their current position
